

A black and white photograph capturing a dramatic scene of a small boat, possibly a canoe or a small motorboat, navigating through a series of large, turbulent rapids. The boat is tilted significantly, with its bow pointing upwards and its stern dipping into the churning water. Several people are visible inside the boat, appearing to be struggling against the powerful currents. The water is characterized by large, frothy white rapids that dominate the foreground and middle ground. In the background, a steep, rocky riverbank rises sharply, with some sparse vegetation visible. The overall atmosphere is one of intense action and potential danger.

B52s Blast Viet Cong Training Center 13 Miles From Saigon

Secondary Explosions Follow Raid

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Air Force B52 bombers today smashed a Viet Cong training center 13 miles from Saigon.

The B52s have bombed closer to the capital only once. Last Feb. 13, at the height of the Viet Cong's Tet offensive on Saigon, they struck a suspected enemy troop concentration 10.5 miles north of Saigon.

The U.S. Command said ground observers in the training camp area southeast of the capital reported that secondary explosions lasted for six minutes after the eight-engine bombers left the site. A secondary explosion means ammunition or fuel going up after the 500- and 750-pound bombs have exploded.

In the last two weeks, the B52s have flown nearly 100 missions within a 75-mile radius of the capital, trying to cut infiltration corridors from the Cambodian border and prevent enemy troops from massing for a threatened attack on Saigon next month.

Five Raids

In five raids Sunday, the B52s aimed at enemy troop concentrations and infiltration routes in Phuoc Long Province, next to the Cambodian border 75 miles north of Saigon.

Saigon was spared of any shelling for the third consecutive day today, but the Viet Cong shelled two airfields, a province capital and four government military posts.

Government headquarters said the shelling killed two government soldiers and wounded six soldiers and 15 Vietnamese civilians.

It was the quietest night in two months in the capital and almost everywhere else in the country. U.S. sources said the enemy likely may be "laying back" to receive replacements, retrain, refit and resupply for fresh attacks.

Hanoi Rejection

Hanoi Radio rejected a U.S. appeal for a halt to the shelling of Saigon saying North Vietnam is "ready to fight the U.S. aggressors anywhere in Vietnam." The broadcast also said the Communist-led forces have "a solemn, inviolable right" to defend the sovereignty of Vietnam and warned they would intensify their attacks on Saigon and other areas of South Vietnam.

U.S. pilots flew 127 missions against the panhandle Sunday through heavy antiaircraft fire. Pilots reported destroying or damaging 78 trucks, many of them apparently loaded with ammunition. Pilots said flames from the burning trucks could be seen 50 miles away.

On the ground, South Vietnamese troops suffered one of their worst setbacks in months Saturday as guerrillas ambushed a South Vietnamese infantry column moving down a highway 60 miles northeast of Saigon, killed 44 of the government troops and wounded 71. American helicopters flew in a second government battalion, and after a daylong battle 41 enemy soldiers were reported killed. The reinforcing troops suffered light casualties, headquarters said.

Government troops also reported killing 95 Viet Cong soldiers in two other battles, 25 miles north of Saigon and 100 miles southwest of the capital. Government losses were reported as 14 killed and 15 wounded in one clash and as light in the other.

Indications mounted that the reports of North Vietnamese helicopters around the demilitarized zone last week were erroneous. Gen. Creighton W. S. Abrams, the U.S. commander in Vietnam, said Sunday "there is no formal, concrete factual evidence" of such activity and no evidence of enemy helicopters operating in North Vietnam's lower panhandle area above the DMZ.

The U.S. Command is expected to release the findings of its investigation in the reports soon.

Minnesota Democrats Give Humphrey 3-1 Delegate Edge

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Minnesota Democrats have given Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey a near three-to-one advantage in national convention delegates. But a leader of the forces of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy says the state convention has left the party with a split that could cost Humphrey the state in November.

All four top party offices were won by pro-Humphrey candidates in the skirmishing in this home state of the two rivals.

And in a final coup, the state Humphrey supporters won all 20 at-large delegates Saturday and on Sunday, they swept all 10 alternate posts.

That left Humphrey with 38 1/2 votes on the first ballot and McCarthy with 13 in first ballot strength for the presidential nomination at the Democrats' Chicago convention in August.

The convention adopted 616-456 a platform plank on the Vietnam war which favors curtailment of American bombing of North Vietnam and efforts to get a cease-fire. That coincides with the vice president views of the war situation.

Delegates at the same time rejected a plank offered by McCarthy backers which urged a halt to all bombing and immediate withdrawal of 50,000 American troops as a first step toward complete withdrawal.

Public Impressions

The public impression of tactics by Humphrey forces may have hurt the vice president, said Hopkins Holmberg, McCarthy's floor leader at the convention. He added: "What really came out was that the Humphrey people took a very hard line. They dumped some of their own supporters who didn't take a hard line. That's indicative of the differences in this party."

"Humphrey may have won the convention but may lose the state," Holmberg said that Minnesota, a politically unpredictable state, could wind up with a large chunk of the independent vote against Humphrey.

Earlier Split

Two years ago, the Democrats suffered a deep party rift when the state convention dropped incumbent Gov. Karl Rolvaag for re-election in favor of Lt. Gov. A.M. Keith. But Rolvaag swamped Keith in a primary and then went on to lose to Republican Harold LeVander by some 73,000 votes.

Pro-McCarthy backers had won control of party machinery earlier this year in the three large congressional districts centering on Minneapolis-St. Paul while the party regulars had the upper hand in five outstate districts.

Humphrey's state campaign leader, State Rep. Wendell R. Anderson of St. Paul, said in response to Holmberg's comments, "We felt the big issue was who would win delegates. This was our objective. We were successful."

He added that the vice president's supporters had not tried to be unduly harsh even though they had the votes.

Anderson said they had not opposed re-election of Forrest Harris, a McCarthy man, as first vice chairman of the state party.

"We hoped that would be a gesture to keep McCarthy people in the party in spite of differences," he said.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A 17-year-old student representing Lions Clubs in three African nations placed a wreath Sunday at the site of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

Phillips Falesse of the Congo-Kinshasa, chosen by the Lions to attend the club's international youth conference, said the placing of the wreath was a special assignment from Lions Clubs in Rwanda, Burundi and the Congo. "We felt deeply the mourning of the United States loss of President Kennedy who was highly thought of in Africa," he said.

Attacks on 'Thin' Sentinel System Renewed in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate opponents of the so-called "thin" Sentinel antimissile defense program are renewing their attack on the system, charging it is unproven and costs too much money.

A $1.8 billion military construction bill before the Senate for action today includes $227.3 million for the system, designed as a defense against potential Red Chinese nuclear attack capabilities in the 1970s.

The bill would authorize various military projects, with actual funds for them to be provided later in a separate appropriation bill.

The construction bill, already passed by the House, was expected to get Senate approval before the day is out—after a vote on an amendment to cut the Sentinel funds.

Narrow Vote

Both sides predicted a narrow vote on the fund-cutting amendment introduced by Sens. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., with absentees possibly deciding the outcome.

Absentees were expected to include several senators who supported a move by Cooper, which lost by only three votes, in April to cut separate Sentinel funds from the military procurement bill.

Congress has not completed action on the military procurement bill and Atomic Energy Commission legislation which also includes Sentinel funds.

Some senior members of the Armed Services Committee have argued that the Sentinel is a necessary deterrent against a growing Chinese missile force.

These committee members have attacked arguments that the Sentinel is an untried weapon that might not work and that, in any case, offensive weapons can always be kept one step ahead of defensive ones.

"We may have one deployed that will not work," said Sen. John C. Stennis of Mississippi, second-ranking Armed Services Democrat, during debate Friday, "but they will not know it will not work."

Joining Cooper and Hart against the project have been Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., former Air Force secretary and another senior member of the Armed Services Committee.

Charging that the nation has received little return for billions invested in defense research and development, Symington said "no country—not even this great country—can afford to spend annually over $80 billion for the military."

"If this military budget continues to grow and grow, where are we going to get the money to educate our children? Where are we going to get the money to handle the problems of our cities? Where are we going to get the money to more properly control water and air pollution?" he asked.

Symington noted that the recently passed income tax surcharge bill carried a mandatory $6 billion spending cut and asked: "If we do not take a cut at this gigantic military budget, where are we going to get the $6 billion?"

He said the Sentinel was a good place to start cutting and called it "theoretical, extravagant and unproven."

Strike Locks 70 Ships In Seaway

MONTREAL (AP)—Nearly 70 ships lay locked in the St. Lawrence Seaway Sunday with more than 1,200 workers on strike since Friday.

About 60 ocean-going ships, most flying foreign flags, were stranded in the seaway between the eastern end of Lake Ontario and Port Colborne, Ont., on Lake Erie. Seven more ships were stranded between the Ironquios Locks on Lake Ontario and the St. Lambert Locks in Montreal.

By voting 93 per cent in favor of strike action, the workers, represented by the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers, turned down a majority recommendation by a federal conciliation board.

The board, whose recommendation was called "reasonable" by Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau, called for 6 per cent increase in wages this year and a similar one next year.

The union is seeking an 18 per cent increase over two years to bring the wages of Canadian Seaway Workers closer to those of their U. S. counterparts.

Christian Democrats Formation of Minority Cabinet Starts in Italy

ROME (AP) — Premier-designate Giovanni Leone is expected to begin forming a minority cabinet today made up of members of the Christian Democratic Party.

A spokesman for Leone cautiously admitted that the Christian Democratic senator planned to go ahead in his attempt to put together a cabinet. "Reporting to the president on the mandate he has received, Leone will presumably accept the task to form a government," the spokesman said.

President Giuseppe Saragat asked Leone to try to launch a one-party government after the Socialists refused to reverse their decision to stay out of the government. Stung by a serious setback at the general election in May, the Socialists bolted the three-party center-left coalition which ruled Italy for the past five years.

However, Socialist leaders told Leone they were willing to help him through when he faces Parliament for a confidence vote.

Leone has made clear he intends to continue along the policy lines followed by the former center-left alliance of Christian Democrats, Socialists and Republicans. The Socialists will decide at a party congress in the fall whether to resume their alliance with the Christian Democrats.

Socialist Party deputy secretary Giacomo Brodolini, in a speech Sunday, called on Leone to create "conditions for a positive development of relations between the (center-left) parties."

After consulting with leaders from all parties Thursday and Friday, Leone worked on his cabinet lineup and platform over the weekend. Political circles said he plans to introduce his government to Parliament and seek a vote of confidence next week.

ed, hand-clapping crowd at the Resurrection City campsite Sunday night.

The official permit allowing the campaign demonstrators to live in their plywood settlement near the Lincoln Memorial ran out at dusk Sunday after a day of unrest and disorder that brought a barrage of tear gas fired by police into the camp in an early morning encounter.

The deadline pushed the Poor People's Campaign toward a crisis similar to the Depression era incident when federal troops were used to disperse the encampment set up by the Bonus Army marchers.

"This is a jail-without-bail program we are embarked on now," said Abernathy. "We must be prepared for the worst."

A top aide to Abernathy, the Rev. Andrew Young, said the protesters were preparing to "move against the Congress."

Demonstrations are outlawed on the Capitol grounds where 18 persons were arrested a month ago in one of the campaign's few forays so far against Congress itself.

The six-week siege of the nation's capital has brought scant victories in the campaign's sweeping drive for more jobs, better housing and a halt to hunger in America. Leaders have reacted with scorn to new efforts announced by government agencies.

Disorders have dotted the campaign. A white visitor was robbed and shot in the leg Sunday. Four white youths said they were beaten.

Police showered the camp with tear gas early Sunday, routing residents who fled, coughing and crying, to the base of the brightly lit Washington Monument seeking refuge from the fumes.

U.S. Park Police said protesters inside the camp were stoning cars and hurling burning torches at law enforcement officers. At least 15 canisters of tear gas were fired into the camp to disperse the crowd.

At a news conference, Abernathy accused police of faking evidence of the bottle-throwing and blamed authorities for gassing women and children. But Williams said at the rally troublemakers from inside the camp had been hurling bottles.

At least half a dozen persons were taken to hospitals. It was the second time in four days police fired tear gas against campaign protesters. The previous incident came in an unruly demonstration Thursday that brought 77 arrests.

Another, but brief incident of rock throwing broke out late Sunday, but police said the situation quieted as rain began to fall about midnight. There were no new arrests.

The Department of Interior refused Sunday to extend the camping permit that has served for six weeks as the official sanction for the seat of the almost daily demonstrations against government.

The department, which controls the land as part of a capital park, asked the campaign to vacate the squatter's settlement and gave it an unspecified grace time to dismantle the tent-like wooden shelters.

Protesters carrying their belongings trickled out of the fenced encampment at dusk throughout the day.

OEO Denies Supporting Hoodlumism

Ex-Gang Member Claims Funds Used To Purchase Guns

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal agency that backed a controversial experiment to rehabilitate a Chicago street gang denies charges that program money was used to buy guns and make the group into a powerful criminal organization.

The Office of Economic Opportunity says there is no proof for charges made by a former member of the gang, "Blackstone Rangers," that part of the $927,000 program was used to obtain sawed-off shotguns and rifles.

The OEO also said there is no truth to the accusations made before a Senate investigation subcommittee last week by George Rose, a former warlord of the Rangers, that the pastor of a South Side Chicago church knew the gang was storing weapons in the basement.

The Rev. John R. Fry, who Rose said also allowed the First Presbyterian Church to be used for marijuana parties, issued his own denial Sunday and said he would seek a contempt of Congress citation against Rose.

The Rev. Fry was to testify before the subcommittee today.

OEO Director Bertrand Harding, in a statement released Sunday, took to task those who he said accepted Rose's testimony at face value.

"The apparent eagerness of some to accept the uncorroborated statements of a Chicago hoodlum, who was never a participant in the program, raises questions about their own credibility," the statement said.

Rose told the subcommittee that gang leaders saw the federal grant as a chance to get "some easy money" and make the Rangers into a powerful criminal organization. He also said the Rev. Fry once relayed an order to commit a murder against one of the gang's enemies.

Police Cooperation

Harding said Chicago police worked with OEO on the Rangers program and "at no time have the police reported to the OEO finding arsenals of weapons as a result of this project."

The Rev. Fry also got backing from the congregation and leaders of his church. In a letter released Sunday, church elders said they had the "utmost confidence" in their pastor.

Harding described the program as an attempt "to test whether the mechanisms of the gang structures could assist in shifting attitudes toward productive adult citizenship."

unsolved, and the wholesale wage raises handed out to get 10-million striking workers back to their jobs will almost certainly bring widespread inflation.

Former Premier Pierre Mendes-France, a left-wing leader who was in trouble in the Grenoble district, warned the government that it probably would have trouble with "those who voted for it but who for all that are not ready to give up their demands."

"It is not impossible," he said, "that we will experience again, sooner than we expect, demonstrations as violent as those we

The political parties meanwhile began trading sessions in preparation for the runoff. In the second round only candidates who got at least 10 percent of the vote can run and the one with the most votes is elected. Many candidates withdrew in the second round in favor of better placed candidates as a result of deals.

Gaullist leaders from Pompidou down warned their followers the fight was not over. They cautioned against complacency and abandoning the campaign before the runoff.

Canadians to Vote Tuesday

Trudeau Personality Shaping Election

TORONTO (AP) — On the eve of Canada's national election, the key appears to be Trudeau-mania.

Public opinion polls and newspaper surveys across the country say the Liberal Party of Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau is headed for a clear-cut victory largely due to the personality of Trudeau.

Unless there is a last-minute upset, Canada will return to a majority government for the first time since 1982. Several surveys give the Liberals more than 150 of the 264 seats in Parliament, or 17 more than needed for a majority.

In the 1985 election the Liberals, under Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson, fell three votes short of a majority, but Pearson was able to carry on with a minority government until he resigned on April 20 to turn the government over to Trudeau. Trudeau dissolved Parliament on April 23 and called for the new election.

Although the 48-year-old Trudeau and the Conservative leader, Robert Stanfield, 53, were both new to the national political scene in Canada, it was Trudeau who drew the big crowds across the country and stirred the younger set to near-riot fervor.

Tuesday's election will be Canada's sixth in 11 years and will be the first since 1958 which was not contested between the two veterans, Conservative John Diefenbaker and Pearson. Stanfield was chosen Conservative leader last September. He was formerly premier of Nova Scotia.

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The young scholar can sprawl out on a deep pile gold rug in one classroom at California Institute of Technology.

Psychology Prof. John Weir says the students are learning more in the experimental classroom, which is in use day and night by classes in biology, logic, English, mathematics and psychology.

Besides the gold carpet, the classroom has brightly painted chairs, colorful ceiling panels to reflect overhead lighting, and loosely woven white draperies. Students gather informally around the professor or sprawl on the floor if they prefer.

Weir says the setting makes students feel greater responsibility to become involved in classroom discussions.

Stanfield was winding up his given added protection after the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy in Los Angeles three weeks ago.

The expectations for a Trudeau victory are based partly on the latest Gallup poll, which shows an 18-point spread between the Liberals and the Conservatives, as compared to a seven-point spread in 1983.

In Canada it is the number of parliamentary seats rather than the popular vote that counts.

Administration Change Set At Calumet Day Care Center

CHILTON — Beginning July 1, the administration of Calumet County's Day Care Center for mentally retarded at Charles town will be under direction of Robert Allen, executive director of Brown County Community Center at Green Bay according to Gaylord Unbehaun, Brillion, chairman of the service board. It will be operated as a satellite of the main facilities in Green Bay which will be responsible for personnel and programming. Calumet County became a member of the Brown County Center in June 1966 when it pledged $7,500 over a five year period to help build the facility.

Mrs. Viola Eigendorf, Sheboygan, who has directed Calumet Day Care program since its inception in January 1966 submitted her resignation to the board Wednesday at the regular meeting.

Camping Program
The summer camping program which was planned earlier will be conducted on schedule at Calumet County Park near Stockbridge and will be supervised by Green Bay personnel. Camping for pre-schoolers will begin July 9 and run until July 19; camping for educables will be July 23 to Aug. 2 and for trainables from Aug. 6 to 16. It will be from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesday through Friday.

Allen said in speaking of the overall program "we intend to run it according to our concept and philosophy here," adding that with the approval of the board he hoped to see the training on a year round basis instead of the nine months as it had been in the past.

Members of the service board are Unbehaun, president; Donald Fictum and Mrs. Robert Langenfeld, New Holstein; Mrs. Reuben Koffarnus, route 1, Hilbert; George Herrmann and Mrs. Hilbert; George Koffarnus, route 1, Hilbert; and the Rev. T. R. Bartell, Brillion. John Stumpf, Sherwood, is an honorary member.

Center's History
Calumet's Day Care Center first opened in the basement of the Toth Nursing Home in 1961. Funds for the first year's operation came from voluntary contributions. Later the center qualified for 40 per cent state aid, supplemented by fund drives and benefits. This year the Calumet County Board appropriated $4,000 for the program. Allen said the county has fulfilled its pledge of $1,500 a year to the Green Bay Center and he felt the Green Bay facility was "obligated to help in Calumet County since they helped us when we needed them".

A manager will be hired for the Charlestown facility, Allen said and indicated changes would be made. At present 14 retardates were attending training sessions in the Calumet County facility which recessed Friday, but Unbehaun suggested there were many more in the county needing help. Several have received training at Green Bay.

Calumet County 4-H Agent Charles P. Nikolai has assisted with recruiting youths to assist the professional personnel with the summer camping.

Volunteers are Carol Kesler, Donna Hoerth, Geraldine Rabida, Hal Hoerth, Debra Martin and Terry Martin.

Advisory Groups Set Joint Meeting At Clintonville
CLINTONVILLE — Progress reports on the last year's comprehensive plan and discussion of next year's goals will take place at a joint meeting of all citizens advisory committees at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Veterans Memorial Building.

Following the general session, each committee is to meet separately and consider its problems in keeping the city's plan certified.

Reports of the committees' progress and goals must be filed if the city is to remain eligible for federal funds from the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). Recertification reports must be made by July 1, but a large paper load at the federal agency will prevent recertification from being processed until the latter part of August or early September.

Post-Korean GI Education Plan Begins Its Third Year

The post-Korean, or third-generation, G.I. Bill education and training plan began its third year of operation this month.

The bill provides educational assistance to servicemen, granting one month for each month of service up to 36 months. Veterans who served on active duty for 180 days, part of which was after Jan. 31, 1955, and servicemen with at least two consecutive years of active duty are eligible for the program.

There are now 5,961 veterans and 14 servicemen entered in institutions of higher learning. About 3,446 veterans and 78 servicemen are enrolled in the schools below the college level. Nearly 16,450 veterans and servicemen have taken advantage of the bill in Wisconsin. About 9,900 of the men have entered institutions of higher learning under the bill, according to Joseph J. Mulone, manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office, Milwaukee.

About 1,087 veterans are taking on-the-job training in Wisconsin according to Mulone.

He explained the assistance available under the program ranges from a monthly allowance of $130 or more depending upon the number of dependents for full-time institutional training to payment of only the actual cost of correspondence courses.

Comparative Tax Burdens

If the resident of Wisconsin confines his view to what he sees going on around him in governmental taxation and spending, he is likely to conclude that these are costly if not profligate times for the taxpayer. School costs are rising at a pace never before experienced. Municipal expenditures of a general nature are rising. The state during its current biennial term has authorized the first general fund budget of more than a billion dollars in its history, and the men who were responsible for that act are being challenged by partisan opponents for their parsimony in some respects.

The average citizen probably also remembers the prominent publicity given in some recent years to the fact that Wisconsin ranked very high among the states in the comparative per capita tax payments of its residents for their state and local services. Those comparisons were accurate on the whole, and no doubt had some deterrent effects with respect to the attraction of new enterprise and residents of other states to do business and to work and live here.

But now comes a respected and reliable University of Wisconsin economist with some good news. The state's comparative position in the weight of taxation will improve during the next few years, predicts Prof. John Udell, director of the University graduate school of business. He offered his calculations to the Governor's Board of Economic Development, the members of which doubtless regarded it as very favorable news, indeed, for their charge is to convince the rest of the country that the Wisconsin economic climate is favorable to business enterprise. Only four years ago our state was widely publicized as having the second highest per capita tax payments in the country. Last year there was a substantial improvement, in comparative terms, when the state ranked fifth among the 50 in the country in tax exactions per person.

Now Prof. Udell says we are certain to improve our ranking again this year, and possibly during the next few years. He told the economic development board that this year's ranking may be 12th, which may perhaps be too optimistic. But it is perfectly plausible to assume that there will be a substantial improvement in the state's rating, remembering that Wisconsin state government was one of the very few in the country that did not enact a major tax increase during this term, and that some other states were obliged to levy extraordinarily huge amounts of new money to balance their budgets.

Prof. Udell also usefully reminds us that there are other factors beyond the current level of taxation that affect the comparative rank of the states. Although Wisconsin is gradually accumulating a substantial state debt for capital improvement, it remains comparatively small in the aggregate. Other states with larger debt service costs are now paying the penalty in higher taxation for the interest payments. Wisconsin also has a tradition of providing good public services, such as higher education, in which many other states have lagged. As they now strive to make good the lag, they are spending heavily and taxing heavily, to improve our own comparative taxing position.

The Pols and the Polls

Perhaps we ought not to be surprised about the evolution in the techniques of courting the American voter in these times that are moving so fast in so many other respects. But we admit to some distaste about the publicity blitz that has been bought and paid for by Gov. Rockefeller and his friends and is designed candidly to influence the public opinion poll rankings during July, when they are calculated to have the most effect upon the men and women who will nominate the Republican candidate for the presidency in early August.

Mr. Rockefeller is an able and good man. His argument is that he can win the election against the Democrats in the fall, partly by attracting some of them to his banner, and that Mr. Nixon cannot, as he demonstrated eight years ago. The problem, however, is to convince the delegates who will have the power to nominate. In this era of excessive reliance by the politicians on the polls, Mr. Rockefeller is perhaps shrewdly choosing the only method that can now be used to stop Nixon at the convention in Miami Beach.

Yet the question remains: If the governor of New York is so certain about his popularity with the people, why did he flinch from entering some of the early state primary elections to demonstrate his "availability," as the professionals could put it? In Wisconsin, for example, he was formally put on the primary ballot, but promptly filed a disclaimer of candidacy. If he is sure he can run better than Nixon in the fall, he should not have doubted that he could do so in representative states, like ours, in the spring.

The unfortunate fact, for Mr. Rockefeller, is that he hesitated and doubted and delayed too long. In most objective accounts, Mr. Nixon already has the nomination virtually assured. Perhaps it will be a nomination by default, but it is a fact of current political life, nevertheless, and Mr. Rockefeller need blame only himself. As we have observed here frequently this year, he could have made a meaningful contest here with Mr. Nixon in April, as well as in other states. Had he done so, and made a fair showing, he would now be in formidable position to make the fight at the convention.

Now he has chosen the only method that remains to him, a deliberate, profoundly expensive promotion campaign, emphasizing television and the metropolitan newspapers, to cast aspersions upon the man who was willing to put himself to the risky tests in the primaries.

Perhaps as Mr. Kenneth Crawford, a commentator for one of the national magazines who got his professional training in Wisconsin, has put it, we are unrealistic in regretting that a presidential candidate must use the cosmetics techniques.

As Mr. Crawford added sardonically, however, "maybe it will work for Rockefeller the way it works for deodorants and toothpastes."

But as residents of a country which likes to believe it stands before the world as a responsible democracy, we don't have to like such huckstering methods.

Let's Go Slow With Czechoslovakia

The tension seems to be mounting in Eastern Europe over Czechoslovakian moves to liberalize its Communist government. Currently this presents the United States with a new dilemma.

At the end of World War II, the United States impounded about $20 million of Czech gold bullion. About $5 million of this was social security and other Government annuity payments owed to residents of Czechoslovakia who had qualified for them while working in the United States but had later returned to their homeland. Because of the extensive nationalization of American owned property in Czechoslovakia by the Communist regime, the United States has refused to release the funds until concessions are made by the Czechs. Similar situations exist in a number of other countries. So far the United States has reached agreements and paid back such funds to residents of Poland, Bulgaria, Rumania and Yugoslavia but the negotiations were carried on quietly and there were no political problems. Benefit payments still are being withheld from Albania, Communist China, Cuba, Hungary, Russia, East Germany, North Korea and North Vietnam.

Last fall Czechoslovakia offered to make payments up to $12 million for nationalized American property which United States authorities claim amounts to about $73 million. The United States then reduced the claim to $44 million but the Czechs turned it down. Last week the United States offered to pay the $5 million in benefit payments in what it hopes is a cautious approach to the liberalized Czech regime.

But also last week Pravda unleashed a vicious attack upon Czech Communist Party Secretary Cestmir Cisar, accusing him of anti-Lenin tendencies such as the Russian heretical Mensheviks exhibited. About the same time Soviet troops crossed over into Czechoslovakia in what is described as part of Warsaw Pact maneuvers. Certainly both incidents are part of the pressure the concerned Russians are exerting against Alexander Dubcek's government in Prague, a warning to slow down.

The dilemma for the United States is how far to go in encouraging Dubcek's regime. We would want it to succeed both to give the Czechs more political and economic freedom and to make less possible the threat of a monolithic Communist power. But we dare not encourage it to the point that we feel obligated to send military forces in case the Russians should move with tanks as they did in Hungary in 1956. And too much friendship with the United States by Czechoslovakia is likely to prompt such a Soviet move.

In addition to trying to get some satisfaction for nationalized property, the United States has withheld the payments for fear the individuals would not get them. This now seems to be unwarranted. But the greater political implications are more serious at this particular time. Much as we are heartened by Dubcek's success so far, we should go slow in demonstrating great approval.

Accordingly the senators and representatives from Arkansas took their seats in Congress on the 24th instant (June 24). It will be readily seen that the Democrats in both houses, true to their disloyal principles Quoted from the Appleton Post for July 2, 1868.

The President (Andrew Johnson), as usual, vetoed the bill to admit Arkansas into the Union. But it availed him

Russia Practicing Genocide on Poor of Latvia, Lithuania, Estonia

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

While President Johnson was addressing the United Nations recently a little band of sorrowing anti-Soviet patriots — totally ignored — was assembled across the street. Tragically, the best they could do was wave their tiny flags and bow their heads in prayer for their raped Baltic homelands. Yet is humanity and the human spirit served by tucking under the bed the sins of freedom's enemy?

Northern Russia has become the greatest graveyard history has ever known. In another parallel with Nazism, the Kremlin continues Hitler's principle of "Volkerwanderung." Literally translated, it means "The wandering of the nations." Officially, in the U.N., it is called genocide.

FORCED MIGRATION
This is the principle of breaking down national groupings by forced migration and establishing a general stratum of nonentities under the leadership stratum.

"Minorities are a curse," said Hitler. And, nodding agreement, the Kremlin has used identical barbaric methods to annihilate them.

The proud Latvians, Lithuanians and Estonians are a people with a rich and old culture who have lived on the Baltic shores for more than 5,000 years. Those who have come here have made magnificent immigrants. Those who remained at home have always been intensely pro-American.

Taylor

Today's Iron Curtain in Europe is the place to which the Red Army advanced — and stayed. Satellites were set up along the entire corridor from the Black Sea to the Baltic states. But Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia (population 6 million) suffered a uniquely cruel fate. They were incorporated bodily into the U.S.S.R. The Kremlin redesignated them merely as Soviet states. And not a single Western diplomat or U.N. representative has since been allowed to visit these captive countries.

WEST FAILED TO HELP

The West failed to help the Latvian, Lithuanian and Estonian Freedom Fighters as we are failing to help the Cuban Freedom Fighters, and after 11 years of heroic resistance their guerrilla fighting ground to a halt in 1951. An especially tragic debate accompanied this. Estonian exile leader Arthur Hamen, active among the Baltic states Freedom Fighters operating from Sweden, Britain, the United States and elsewhere, allegedly was a Soviet plant. But the Kremlin's "Volkerwanderung" principle had begun and has continued to this very day.

Without warning, usually at dawn, long lines of lorries are brought in. Red Army troops set up machine guns at the street crossings.

The youngest and most-fit looking, at a ratio of about five men to one woman, are given one of three cards. A red card means that he or she is to serve in the Red Army. A green card means the holder is to be transferred in his job. A white card means deportation to the Soviet Union.

Small squads surround the villages' houses, barns and shops. They herd the white card holders into the lorries — possessing only the clothes on their backs. Russia-bound boxcars await them at the nearest railroad. They lose all personal identity; each is known only by a number.

GO OFF IN BOXCARS

In Russian the word "ulovnostki" means slave labor and the word "taiga" means their barbed-wire cages. A class of forced labor being necessary in any totalitarian economy to perform the heavy work which men and women will not do willingly without pay, the boxcars take these Baltic people to join the living dead for the rest of their lives.

They are sent to the northern lumber, fishing and construction "taigas", and to the coal and iron mines and the vast new gold strikes along Bering Strait, across from Alaska. They are sent to the copper mines on Vaygach and Novaya Zemlya islands in the Arctic Ocean, where one of the prison barges sank with a loss of 700 Lithuanian lives. They are sent to the southern oil fields and to the road "taigas" in the wilds of Eastern Siberia and the Far East.

Politics, Retirement Costing Legislature Several Good Men

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The voluntary retirement of J. Curtis McKay, Ozaukee County assemblyman for eight years and Republican majority floorleader of the lower house, will be regretted by those of his party who are aware of his considerable talents and skills.

Together with the decision of Senators Leonard and Warren to give up their seats in the senate, and their positions as majority leader and assistant majority leader to bid for higher office in the fall, there will be a sizeable hole in the roster of the Republican leadership when the legislature convenes again.

The three men were probably as able and virgorous and loyal in their partisan assignments as were any of the predecessors who occupied their positions in recent times.

SITUATION IS TYPICAL

Yet the situation is typical enough, although sometimes the inhabitants of the Capitol, viewing at close range, tend to forget it.

The rule of the sensible legislator, and especially the younger one with job of family responsibilities, is to serve a reasonable period and "then move up or get out," as the pragmatic among them put it. There is nothing quite as pathetic in politics as the professional legislator, the man who clings to his seat year after year, either because he cannot find another political outlet or dares not try.

Without intending in the slightest degree to disparage the contributions or the abilities of the aforementioned, there is a certain astigmatism in politics when such vacancies in prominent statehouse political ranks impend.

But the constitutional rules under which the state operates intend that the legislature shall be constantly refreshed with new men, new ideas, new personalities, and new attitudes. That is one of the reasons for the comparatively short terms and frequent elections, for example.

WRINGING OF HANDS

A good case could be made for the view that a legislature to preserve its representative character according to constitutional intent should have a sizeable turnover each biennium, say from 30 to 40 per cent, which the Wisconsin legislature has at times approached.

Often there is a figurative wringing of hands when a particularly competent legislator in a position of leadership leaves the lawmaking halls.

That was the case some years ago when Warren Knowles, who had been a hard working and effective leader of the Republican majority for a considerable period, decided to "move up or get out". In his case to move up to the lieutenant governorship. Where to find a man of his talents to replace him was the worry among Republicans who had become so accustomed to his calm and reliable command. As it turned out, he was already there, but he had not been seen. Paul Rogan took over. And when Rogan left, the governor's brother, Robert Knowles, took over, even as last year the younger Knowles decided he wanted to become Senate president and Leonard took over.

REPLACEMENTS IN SIGHT

If the Republicans continue in control of the legislature after the fall elections, as few professional observers in the state now doubt there will be replacements made, although they may not yet be visible.

In the Assembly, for example, it is possible to speculate plausibly that David Martin of Neenah, who flanked McKay as assistant leader in the present biennium, will be moved up to the quarterback's role for the Republicans. If he does not have the talents of articulation and quick thinking in the rough and tumble of floor debates, it may be that his more even temper and restraint and a capacity for self-discipline will compensate, and more.

The important consideration is to maintain the fluidity of legislative membership and the command of the houses, within the spirit of the constitutional framework of state government. Wisconsin does not want and does not need a professional legislature. As the bromide has it, New York is a wonderful city, but one wouldn't want to live there.

Are You 'Hickish'? Here's Harris Test

A reader in a small town wants to know exactly what I meant by "hickish" in a recent column in which I referred to those persons who look askance at boys with long hair.

Being "hickish" has little to do with where you live; probably 75 per cent of the residents of a city as big as Chicago are hickish — while I have known plenty of small town and rural residents who were basically unhickish.

If you care to give yourself

a "hick test," I have arbitrarily devised a set of questions to ask yourself and to answer as honestly as possible:

1. Do you run to the scene of accidents, or stop your car to gawk at highway disasters, not in any mood of helpfulness, but merely to watch the grim proceedings?

2. Do you loudly point out the world. The United Nations dramatically approved an international convention condemning it and containing penalties for it. Indisputably, the Kremlin is practicing genocide. And if the voice of even the smallest new African or Asia country is given respectful attention how can we and the U.N. ignore the ancient voices of the raped Baltic and other states crying out for at least the unmasking of the performances of the Soviet Union?

"celebrities" across the street, or across the room, and make a fuss over the presence of famous people?

3. Do you commonly observe, as a great flash of philosophic insight, that "these days you can hardly tell the boys from the girls"?

4. Do you, if a man, wear pens or pencils sticking out of your suit's handkerchief pocket; and, if a woman, wear curlers to the store?

5. Do you look upon Art Linkletter as a fine performer and a splendid example of an American success story?

6. Do you, if over 16 years old, carry a transistor radio to the beach or any other public place?

7. Do you have travel stickers pasted to the windows of your car, showing you have visited Mammoth Cave or Tommy Bartlett's Water Ski Show?

8. Do you enjoy what is known as "semi-classical" music?

9. Do you believe that people who don't attend church are less "moral" than those who do?

10. Do you, when traveling abroad, resent it because the "foreigners" don't speak English?

11. Do you think that getting "good marks" in school means that someone is getting a "good education"?

12. Do you believe that marijuana users should be punished (as they now are) by being given jail sentences longer than those meted out to some war criminals?

If you have answered "Yes" to more than two of these questions, you are high on the hickish scale. If you have answered "No" to all 12, it doesn't matter where you live — except that most of your neighbors must find you a little peculiar.

Storms Whip State, Big Area of Nation

Weather Blamed in Three Deaths; Tornado Touches Near Edgerton

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — Violent weather lashed most of the nation Sunday figuring in the deaths of three Wisconsin residents and causing considerable property damage. A tornado touched down near Edgerton, damaging some houses, while thunderstorms, lightning and rain rocked other portions of the state. The Rock County sheriff's office said a tornado touched down around 9 p.m. about one mile from Edgerton. An early estimate showed damage to seven or eight houses in addition to injuries, mostly minor, to several persons. Elsewhere in the state two persons were killed by lightning and a Milwaukee man was injured fatally in a traffic accident during the storm. Killed by Lightning Barron County authorities said Floyd Livingston, 62, was killed by lightning while driving cows across a pasture on his farm near Cameron. Robert Vara, 11, was killed when lightning struck a tree in which he and his brother, Francis 10, were playing behind the family home at Caledonia in Racine County. Robert was dead on arrival at a hospital and Francis was treated for minor burns. James White, 43, of Milwaukee was injured fatally early today during a storm when he

Stops Tormenting Rectal Itch

Exclusive Formula Promptly Stops Itching, Burning and Relieves Pain of Piles in Most Cases. New York, N.Y. (Special): The embarrassing itch caused by hemorrhoids is most torturous. But science has found a special formula with the ability, in most cases — to promptly stop the burning itch, relieve pain and actually shrink hemorrhoids. And all without nar-lost control of his car on a city expressway and struck a bridge abutment. Meanwhile, tropical storm Candy jabbed the Texas heartlands, weakening but carrying heavy rains and capable of spawning more tornadoes. Hurricane Brenda moved away from Bermuda, spending her 75 mile an hour wind fury on open ocean. A savage storm tore through sections of the Chicago area causing widespread property damage and six injuries — none of them serious. Four teen-age girls from suburban Alsip were injured when winds up to 60 miles an hour lifted a carnival booth in which they were standing and hurled it some 30 feet. The wind also overturned a ferris wheel at the carnival shortly after the riders were ordered off as a safety precaution. Two railroad men were injured when a diesel engine crashed into the rear of a halted freight train in blinding rain on the South Side. One tornado damaged a house northwest of Grand Island, Neb., and another twister touched down about 25 miles southwest of South Bend, Ind.

Armed Prisoner Locks Family in Washroom

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — A prisoner was talked into giving up a pistol after barricading himself, his wife and two small children in a prison visitor's restroom at the South Carolina Penitentiary Sunday. Prison officials said Harold Couch surrendered peacefully after giving the pistol to his wife, who handed it out the door to officials. An investigation was ordered to determine how Couch got the pistol. Couch is serving a 40 year prison term for rape.

NATO Council Meets

Brandt Looks for Unification Of Berlin, Germany, Europe

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Vice Chancellor Willy Brandt of West Germany said today Communist efforts to further isolate West Berlin are doomed to fail. Brandt used the opening session of the North Atlantic Council of Foreign Ministers to affirm his belief in the ultimate reunion of Berlin, Germany and, indeed, a union of all Europe. The two day spring session of NATO leaders got under way in the theater of the University of Iceland. Outside white-capped Icelandic police kept away several dozen youthful demonstrators protesting under Communist leadership against the continued presence of American military installations in this country at the gateway to the Arctic Circle. Brandt, speaking as president of NATO's council for the year, addressed himself to the capitals of Communist Europe as well as to his immediate listeners. Attempts to set up new barriers between nations and within one nation like the ones we have just recently experienced in Germany — in connection with Berlin — are doomed to failure, he said. Sunday night Brandt had discussed with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, British Foreign Sec-

Wallace Insists He'll Win in November Vote

Continued from page 1 — Wallace's supporters work hard for him, Wallace says, most of the petition efforts necessary for getting on ballots is being done by volunteers. Yet, at the same time, Wallace found it necessary to visit 11 cities in a campaign for funds. He would not say how much was needed, nor what exactly was his campaign's financial condition. "We're not in a crisis," he said, "but we're not overrun with money. We'll make it." Some observers estimated the total cash received on the tour may run more than $300,000. Whether he will have funds to carry on a full scale campaign remains to be seen. But it is clear at this point that Wallace is running hard. He says, "We have nothing to lose and everything to gain." The former Alabama governor does not talk about segregation and he repeatedly says he

Nuns Allowed To Choose Dress

LOS ANGELES (AP) — About 90 per cent of the nuns in the Immaculate Heart of Mary have chosen to go along with a modernization program in dress and other ways of life, by papal sanction. The remaining members will remain aligned with tradition, as is favored by James Francis Cardinal McIntyre, archbishop of Los Angeles, the sisters announced Saturday. The divided order was involved in controversy for some time with Cardinal McIntyre. To mediate the dispute the Vatican named a commission which decided the nuns should poll themselves to determine what they wanted.

Reproduce Sketch of Your Home With Tracing Project

BY CAPPY DICK

Writing paper bearing a picture of your home, your dog or cat or almost any other picture can be prepared by following today's fun-project plan.

The first thing required is a good snapshot, if you wish to use a picture of your home or pet. Otherwise, a picture clipped from a newspaper or magazine will do. It should be a small picture that will fit at the top of your writing paper, either in the center or in one corner.

Hold the photo against a sunlit window with the picture facing you. Cover it with a piece of thin white paper through which the main lines of the picture will show. With pencil trace the outline of the picture as the boy is doing in Figure 1. Don't try to trace every detail; only the important lines that show the shape of the house, the doors, the windows, the porch, etc., will be needed.

The next step is to transfer the outline from the thin white paper to a piece of your regular writing paper, using a piece of carbon paper between the original tracing and the stationery.

With the carbon paper in

place, simply run your pencil over the lines you made in tracing the photo. Lift the carbon paper and make the lines on the stationery bolder by going over them with pencil. Print your address beneath the picture of the house, or the name of your pet beneath its picture. Tomorrow: Directions for playing a game called "now!"

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Rep. Clarence D. Long, D-Md., said he has received several hundred communications urging his support of gun control legislation, including one from a caller who told his secretary: "If Long doesn't get a gun control bill through Congress within two weeks, I'll shoot him."

Women Finding Need In U.S. Job Market

BY SYLVIA PORTER

Women are now invading career fields ranging from the seemingly incredible (ordinary "seamen") to the seemingly ridiculous (chimney sweeps). We are becoming eminent in white collar professions which were closed to us until only a few years ago. We are proving our worth in blue collar occupations which have just opened up to us for the first time in history.

The reasons are not just the obvious legal bans against job discrimination on the basis of sex in the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

Porter

and the mounting acceptance of birth control via contraceptives. The underlying reason is the spreading scarcity of highly educated, highly trained workers throughout the nation. Because women are needed as never before in the job market there is virtually no occupation still closed to us and women are now being actively recruited for jobs once exclusively in the domain of men.

Let's say you're a young woman considering a career in this challenging era, in which if you are typical, you will marry at age 20, raise children and still work at a job an average of 22 years. What guidance could I properly give you to help you fulfill yourself as well as make a significant contribution to your family and to the national economy? This

Licenses for Marriages to List Sanity

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON—The inclusion of a question as to past sanity may be included in Wisconsin marriage license procedures, under a study being started by the state's Council for Home and Family.

The group has agreed to consider backing the inclusion of a question covering marriage license applicants' histories of mental illness, infirmities or deficiencies.

The proposal, made by a council subcommittee on divorce law enforcement, would urge the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the Department of Health and Social Services to include the question in all marriage license forms issued in the state.

Range of Occupations

—Before you decide on your career study the range of occupations now open to you. Consult your school guidance counselor on details of career opportunities and the Labor Department's comprehensive "Occupational Outlook Handbook" which describes more than 700 different careers.

—Set your career goals as high as you dare, or consider upgrading your goals within a given field you've already picked. For example, if you're thinking about becoming a nurse, ask yourself whether you might qualify for training as a nursing teacher or a medical technologist. If you want to become a secretary, consider a high-paying specialty such as medical legal or bilingual secretarial work.

Girl, Operator Of Tavern Fined

A Neenah girl and an Appleton tavern operator were fined in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 Friday morning after they were found guilty of charges brought by Appleton police.

Susan VanLinn, 19, 937 Betty Ave. Neenah was fined $25 and costs or six days in jail for loitering in the R and M Lounge, 610 W. College Ave., about 1:30 a.m. June 1.

Michael L. Fischer, 30, 603 S. State St., operator of the tavern, was fined $50 and costs or 12 days in jail for allowing a minor to loiter in the tavern which is licensed for the sale of liquor.

Appleton police made the arrest after making a routine check of the tavern.

Youngsters Treasure Memories of Camp

WAUPACA — Memories of summer camp are cherished by all children, but especially those who attend Christ Child Camp for trainable retarded children at rural Waupaca. Convening at Pine Lake Camp from June 9 to 14, campers were sponsored by the Christ Child Society, Appleton.

Youngsters from nine years of age found opportunities for adventure and new experiences away from home and family. But half the fun of the six-day session was the chance to live, work and share their adventures with others of similar age and ability.

A staff of six adults, all certified teachers, and counselors supervised the program. The counselors were of high school and college age and had attended 16 training sessions at the St. Joseph School Gym, Appleton, prior to the camp. They shared cabins with the campers and worked with small groups to give each child individual attention. One counselor was employed for every three campers.

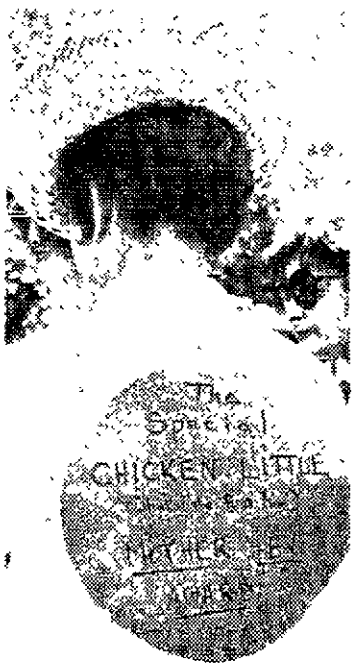

During the camp, youngsters enjoyed arts and crafts, sports, swimming, song fests, camp fires and many other activities.

Top Designers Frankly Discuss Trends in Women's Fashions

BY JACKIE KRUG
Post-Crescent Fashion Editor

NEW YORK, N.Y. — Montgomery Ward's billed its Saturday morning breakfast event as a "Designers' Speak-In." It turned out to be just that, and one of the most rewarding events of the seven-day New York Couture Business Council showings here this week.

Speaking out as designers of women's fashion were the eight members of Ward's Designer Advisory Council headed by the controversial Californian Rudi Gernreich. Other members of the panel, equally well recognized for their top spots in American and European fashion, were Parisian couturiere Simonetta, Clodagh O'Kennedy of Dublin, American lingerie designer Eve Stillman, Philippe Heim of Paris, Nora Aponte of Rome, Alberto Fabiani of Rome and American sportswear designer Melba Hobson.

Each of the eight designers views fashion in a different light and from a different angle which made for a lively exchange of ideas between designers as well as with the audience of national fashion editors.

Fashion Ideas Differ
The overall conclusion is that fashion is no one thing. It is different to each designer and follows that it then must be different to each woman.

One of the most interesting bits of discussion — probably precipitated by the presence of Mr. Gernreich — concerned the controversial "uni-sex" clothes that appear almost the same for men and for women.

The general feeling of the editors seemed to be that girls should look like girls and boys should look like boys. In defense of Mr. Gernreich's more non-sexual designs, Mr. Heim brought out an interesting point that a really feminine woman will look just as feminine, if not more, in a man-tailored costume. Apparently he feels the contrast serves to point out a woman's femininity rather than hide it.

Changes in fashion, which are basic to its industry, came in for diverse comment from the panel. Although for the most part, each interpreted changes in a different way, it was obvious that each believed social, political and economic trends of society play a major role in determining the shape fashion takes from year to year.

Attack Fun Idea
It is Mr. Gernreich's theory that in what he considers a generally depressing world situation, women turn to fashion as a fun escape from the real. This "wash and wear" fun idea was attacked somewhat by several editors and by Miss Hobson who believes that the majority of women are quite happy and view fashion not as an escape but as an extension of themselves.

The question of what is good fashion and what is not was handled in a personal way by Miss Aponte. Miss Aponte clearly believes each social group has its one mode of dress and that this mode serves almost as an identification tag by which members of the same group recognize each other. She continued by saying that a member of one group when in the company of a different group is not considered out of fashion but is merely recognized to be a person of different ideas and way of life.

Editors questioned the designers on a possible trend to bare the body more than before as seen in some of the see-through blouses shown lately. Of course, Mr. Gernreich is noted for his topless swimming suit of 1964 and more recently, his cut-out swimming suits and dresses.

Miss O'Kennedy expressed what appeared to be the general opinion of the editors. She related that during a recent trip to the south of France she had visited a nudist colony and came away with the impression that "the body should not be exposed."

The varying opinions of fashion, what is good and bad, and the trends it is taking, while they don't give the average woman many rules to go by, do point out the individual nature of the business. Diverse opinions leave the way open for expression in fashion putting it almost into a category with art.

Military Wives Entertain Green Bay Club

Military Wives Club of Appleton was host to members of the Green Bay Military Wives Club during a 1:30 p.m. Saturday luncheon at the Left Guard Charcoal House. Mrs. Jack Schievelbein was general chairman assisted by Mrs. John Bubolz. The luncheon included an informal exchange of ideas on club projects.

Mrs. K.C. Kirchberg, executive secretary of the Appleton Red Cross, has been elected to the Military Wives' Executive Board as the Red Cross coordinator of activities.

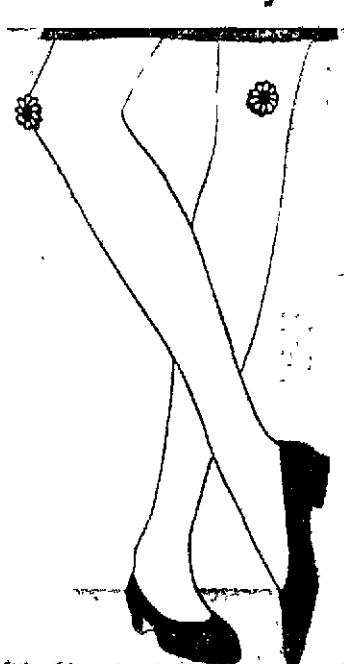

Mrs. Schievelbein is the new vice president. During the business meeting Wednesday Mrs. Jack Halsey, retiring vice president, was presented with a Red Cross charm and a certificate of appreciation. She presented Mrs. John Bruss, president, with a gavel as a farewell present to the club. Members also staged a surprise "happening" in honor of Mrs. Halsey.

The ditty bag project, begun last year, is under the charge of Mrs. Robert Rueckl. The project consists of making and stuffing bags to be sent as Christmas presents to servicemen stationed in Vietnam. The club's quota is 350 bags.

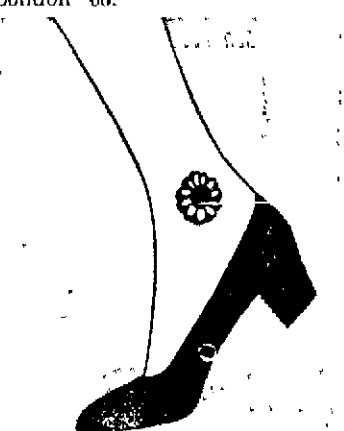

In future plans, the club has set a social meeting and picnic for July 13 at Palisades Park on Valley Road. Members have been asked to bring their children and a picnic lunch for the 3:30 to 6 p.m. event. In case of rain it will be held July 20.

A business meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m., July 17, at the Red Cross chapter office. All wives of servicemen on active duty or retired are welcome to attend.

Since it is sure that the mini-length continues, all the British "style seekers" are creating summer fashion ideas for that long space between the hem and the shoes...the latest "trick" being a tiny flower (like a daisy) glued to the knee or ankle (with eyelash glue). It works as well on skin or hose and is a sure attention getter! London '68.

Laundries Work Pillow-Magic

The world's best beauty treatments are only a nails, come books, bones, wood are taken lying down — few of the incompatible items and glass? One laundry even particularly on hot, sticky mid-found on and in pillows by reported receiving a pillow with summer evenings when you professional laundries. a razor-sharp surgical knife need a full night's beauty sleep Would you believe coal, corn, embedded in the feathers Thus to greet the new day looking coins, currency, nuts and bolts, pillow's owner is reportedly feeling your best.

That's why it's smart to include a soft, plump sweet-smelling pillow, one that invites only the most pleasant of dreams — in your summer beauty care program.

It need not be a new pillow. In fact, if you have an old favorite sandman-inviter, it's best to stay with it for comfort's sake. But for your health's sake, as well as for beauty care, have it cleaned, reconditioned and freshened for summer at your neighborhood professional laundry.

You'd be amazed at the wonders professional service can work — turning lumpy, stained perspiration and germ-laden pillows into headrests fit for a queen.

Pint of Dirt
According to technicians at the American Institute of Laundering, research and educational center of the laundry industry, an average of a pint of dirt is removed from most pillows received in professional laundries throughout the country. Is it any wonder that doctors recommend pillow cleaning, and all hospitals require it?

But dirt, stains, grease and

Rudolph Bing To Remain Head Of Metropolitan

NEW YORK (AP) — Rudolf Bing, 66-year-old general manager of the Metropolitan Opera since 1950, will continue to head it through the 1971-72 season.

The board of directors of the Met voted Thursday to extend the Viennese-born administrator's contract two years beyond the present expiration date, June 30, 1970.

Bing, now vacationing in Europe, had said last May that he had turned down an offer to become general manager of the Vienna State Opera, although interested in the post. He also had indicated he would accept an extension of his Metropolitan contract if it were offered.

His salary has been estimated variously at between $75,000 and $100,000.

Tag Pillows

How do the laundries work their pillow-magic? First, they tag each pillow twice so that each customer gets back both the same feathers and tick. Feathers are then removed and sterilized in 320-degree live steam heat. The steam removes the dirt and kills any germs in the feathers but does not harm the wax on the feather surface during the sterilization process.

Professional laundries even have tumblers built especially for pillow cleaning. These tumblers dry the feathers with warm air, making them soft and fluffy and giving them new life.

The ticks are properly washed and pressed separately. The original feathers are put into them and the pillow is sewn up.

The rest is silence — the cooling, comfortable silence that comes with a beautiful midsummer night's sleep on a soft, a nitary, summer-conditioned pillow.

Sheinwold Players Get What They Are Seeking

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD
People usually get what they ask for, but they seldom know until they get it, what they have really asked for. In today's hand, for example, South asked the opponents to come in and step all over him when he opened the door.

cached the ace of diamonds to discard the losing heart from dummy. This looked like a shrewd move but it opened the door to the diamonds.

Declarer led a trump to the king and returned a club, losing the king to West's ace. The heart return forced dummy to ruff with the five of trumps.

South gave up another club, and West persevered with the hearts. Seeing the danger, South discarded a club from dummy rather than ruff, but West then shifted to the wide-open diamonds. South had to ruff in dummy with the jack of spades, and now had only one trump in dummy while West still had two trumps.

Hopeless Situation
Declarer led a club from dummy, but East stepped up with the eight of spades. It was a hopeless situation, and South was eventually down two.

South brought his fate upon himself by giving up the diamond stopper at the second trick. He should ignore dummy's heart loser and should lead a trump to dummy at the second trick in order to start the clubs.

West wins with the ace of clubs, cashes a heart and leads another heart. South ruffs in dummy with the five of trumps and gives up another club.

If West leads another heart,

Lovelier You But Is It You?

Delicate voile dresses, midi and ruffled, are in this summer's fashion mood. But then so is a sturdy linen mini, cut on the straight and narrow. It seems that anything goes.

Fashion has never been as diversified. Nor has there been a like freedom of choice. Why, you can get real confused selecting clothes, not to mention pulling them together once you've got them. For instance:

Will you go for the soft, romance fashions and a mass of curls, or for contemporary lines and colors and a freeform haircut? No fashion law states

South can ruff in his own hand, draw trumps with dummy's queen and jack and then run the clubs. If West shifts to diamonds, South still has the ace of diamonds to act as a stopper. He wins the diamond, draws trumps and runs the clubs.

Daily Question
Partner opens with 1-NT (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes. You hold: S-8 3; H-K 8 7 4; D-K 9 8 5 4; C-10 9. What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two diamonds. This is a weak response, and partner is expected to pass. Your hand is not strong enough for the Stayman Convention or any other move toward game.

that you cannot adopt both looks or any of the many going.

It would be an untruth to say that a single look is the look. More than ever, dressing is an individual matter. Becomingness, more than ever, marks individuality.

Your clothes must look as though they belong to you—express your personality. This goes for everything you wear: your fun, work, street and date clothes. Even Miss Teen's fun-fad clothes. It is no good unless it's your thing.

Carrying a fashion idea too far and beating it to death is good, either. As witness a pretty girl with long earrings tangling with her long hair and runners in her black pantie hose. A person who looks like a fashion paragon is out, too. She who can't handle fashion is never in.

look terrible and I am ashamed of myself. No matter how hard I try I can't do better. I've scorched so many collars I decided it would be better to have the iron too cold than too hot. So now his shirts look as if they have not been ironed at all.

Our daughters are growing up and I want their blouses and dresses to look fresh and crisp like the little girls they play with, but I just can't manage it.

I am getting an inferiority complex. It's awful to admit I'm too stupid to iron halfway decently when millions of women are able to do it. Can you help? — Wrinkled in Whittier

Dear Wrink: To be a good ironer does not take brains. It takes know-how, practice and patience. Go to a friend or neighbor whose ironing you admire. Ask her to let you watch her wash and iron. See what she puts in the wash water. Several products on the market make ironing easier. Bring your own iron along on the second visit and iron alongside her. After the third or fourth session you should be well on your way.

In exchange for the lessons you can buy her an appropriate gift or bring over a standing rib roast, a casserole of scalloped potatoes and a cherry pie.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I would like your opinion of a newspaper ad that made me furious. Please tell me if you think I am a sourpuss and a killjoy.

The ad says, "Don't just go steady — go pre-engaged. Buy this 14 kt. gold diamond pre-engagement ring for only $19.50."

We have three daughters, two in their teens I am trying desperately to give my girls

Water Safety Essential to Carefree Family Boating

This summer a record 41 million men, women and children will indulge in America's favorite family recreation — boating.

Boating is healthy outdoor fun and can be carefree if the family uses proper precautions for safety afloat. Coinciding with the traditional start of the boating season each year, National Safe Boating Week (June 30 to July 6) underscores the importance of observing basic rules for accident-free boating.

"It's really quite simple to insure a trouble-free family boat trip," states Dr. John Henderson, medical director of Johnson & Johnson, and a veteran boater.

He advises that every pleasure craft — no matter how small — carry three basic types of safety equipment: a fire extinguisher, life preservers and a good marine first aid kit.

Space is always a problem on family boats and each of these necessary items is compactly designed for marine use. Special life preservers double as seat cushions. Small children, however, should wear properly fitted, vest-type jackets at all times, Dr. Henderson suggests. Fire extinguishers come in a wide range of sizes with mountings for easy storage and quick access.

A special, watertight, unsinkable first aid kit is a "must." One popular kit has nylon brackets for permanent installation. It includes sea-sick pills and salt tablets as well as basic first aid supplies.

Dr. Henderson lists some of the most important do's and don'ts of safety afloat:

1. Always wear non-skid shoes to minimize falls on slippery decks.
2. Avoid overexposure to the sun's rays. A hat, even a makeshift one, offers some protection, and a little additional clothing will do the rest. If painful sunburn should occur, apply a good antiseptic first aid cream from the marine kit.
3. Heat exhaustion is fairly common on hot days afloat. Check the kit's first aid guide for symptoms and treatment.
4. Begin your sea-sickness remedy the day before a trip by not over-indulging in alcohol or food. Should you be stricken, however, the marine kit contains a supply of motion sickness tablets.

5. Never dive from a boat unless you are sure of the depth of the water and the nature of the bottom. When swimming in tidal waters always trail a line 50 feet or so with a life ring or buoyant cushion tied to the end, so a swimmer in trouble can grab it. Always leave someone aboard who can operate the boat.

6. A capsized boat will float, so don't try to swim to shore. It is easier and safer to hang on and wait for help to arrive.

7. If you walk in the water, shuffle your feet along the bottom to minimize the risk of getting stung or bitten by sea life or suffering a cut foot from shells or sharp objects. Treat and cover minor cuts promptly with antiseptic and bandages from the kit.

Dorothy Goldberg, wife of the retiring U. S. Ambassador to the United Nations, has spent the past three years trying to make the U. S. mission more effective as host to the 124 U.N. Countries and to raise it to the level of U.S. Embassies abroad.

Husband's Retirement Signals Post-Dorothy Goldberg Period

By JOY MILLER

NEW YORK (AP) — At the United Nations as a whole, the mission beginning about now may henceforth be known unofficially as the post-Dorothy Goldberg period.

Dorothy Goldberg, married to retiring Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, is a professional artist, and for three years she has been passionately working away at her wifely task as though the United Nations were a mighty canvas and she had been commissioned to create a masterpiece.

What the small, dark-haired woman has done—with her lady-like manner, little-girl voice and quiet good sense—is help to make the U.S. mission more effective as host to the 124 U.N. countries and try to raise it to the level of U.S. embassies abroad.

Husband Comes First
Her first aim, though, as it has been for the 37 years of their marriage, is simply to aid her husband.

"Everybody here knocked himself out to support him, so I am glad to do what I can," she said.

Her supportive role includes pinch hitting for him as a speaker and acting as gracious hostess at all the spontaneous and planned entertaining necessary at an embassy.

"The U.S. mission to the U.N. has never been regarded in the same light as, say, the U.S. Embassy at Paris or Bonn, but I tried to arrange things so it would be more of an embassy," she said.

Inaugurated Get-Togethers
She inaugurated monthly evening get-togethers for the wives and women employees of the mission who had never known each other before. She of the United Nations for all began a monthly series of events for the wives of members of the embassies or secretariat who had never been invited to the U.S. mission before.

"With 124 nations you just can't have everybody but the brass at the top, the ambassadors and ministers," she explained. "But for this series we have coffee in the morning and use the auditorium to show art films. The women of the mission make cookies, bring their own flowers. Everybody likes it and nobody thinks they're being exposed to a lot of propaganda."

His art, it's relaxed, a lot of people come who have never come before and are the best ambassadors in the world. "Illuminating Experience"

Now that the job is ending, Mrs. Goldberg sums up her three-year stint candidly:

"I've enjoyed ... well I yearn to say I've enjoyed it. I've learned a good deal from it, and I've attended almost all the sessions of the Security Council and I found it an illuminating experience."

She makes it clear that she did not view with delight her husband's giving up his position on the bench of the U.S. Supreme Court to take the ambassadorship.

"In the beginning I thought—well, if you see the pictures of me when the President swore him in, I looked like the wrath of the gods because I thought he had been doing a good service to his country on the Supreme Court," she said.

Reversed Opinion
"But I do have to admit he was right in taking this post, that if anything his—and my—trust is vindicated and affirmed in the United Nations, and we will continue to work for that wives and women employees of period when peace can be arrived at through the instrument known each other before. She of the United Nations for all began a monthly series of events for the wives of mem-

Ambassador Goldberg, who

Ailing House Birdhouse Sky-Hook Suggested

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: I have a 65-pound birdhouse on a 14-foot pole, which is very difficult to raise and lower every spring and fall. The pole has a hinge at the bottom. But when it is tipped to lower or raise the house, the weight is multiplied by the length of the pole. What changes should I make in the pole to ease the lowering and raising? — Milwaukee.

A: It seems to me the problem isn't with the pole but with the absence of a friendly crane-equipped truck. The perfect opportunity for that oft-fabled sky hook.

Raising the hinge will only make the pole and house heavier, because you will be raising the fulcrum.

Q: When I removed a plastic scarf from my varnished dresser top after three months, the pattern of the scarf was imprinted on the finish. I cannot remove it. What can I do? — Milwaukee.

A: If wiping with turpentine won't take it out, I believe you'll be left with two choices: Remove the finish, which will take the pattern along with it, and then revarnish. Or you could replace the scarf and hide the embedded pattern.

Q: Two old cars of my son's left a tremendous amount of oil on the concrete driveway. How can I clean this off? — Milwaukee.

A: If the oil is well-dried out, you have a tedious, thankless job, rarely 100 per cent successful. If some is still only sticky, blot up what you can with the granular stuff so many garages sweep along an oily floor. Give it a chance to absorb all where possible oil.

Then your big job begins. Cover the remaining stains with

Don't Fuss About Food; Just Eat and Enjoy It

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is the preservative that is put in bread injurious? A doctor said it causes cancer. I hear cold cereals have it. If so, what is the Pure Food Law doing about it? — M. L.

A great many letters like this reach me. People worry about preservatives, artificial sweeteners, meat tenderizers, all sorts of commonplace things. I wonder if public anxiety a thick, stiff paste of powdered chalk, or other powder, and kerosene. Leave until dry, then replace. The idea is that the kerosene (gasoline works faster but evaporates much faster) loosens the oil in the concrete, and the powder blots it out. When no more oil can be pulled out, wash with a strong solution of any potent cleaner. Rinse and call it a day. You can't do any more. Let's hope this is enough!

Q: Our bathtub hot water faucet lets out only a trickle. All the other faucets in the house, both hot and cold, work okay. What causes our problem and how to fix it? — San Francisco.

A: Either something caught in the line, or a build-up inside. Can't tell until you or a plumber look. Quite often such a clogging, eater and drinker and we are Worrying about what "somebody" says about preservatives, sweeteners, and other such items accomplishes nothing, so far as I can see, except to give you an unnecessary case of nerves.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it possible for a 54-year-old woman to become pregnant? — Mrs. A. J. D.

P.S.: Before removing faucet, tritis — irritation of the stomreally is as great as the volume of letters indicates or whether the worriers just happen to be prolific letter-writers.

So often the source of the worrisome "information" is that "somebody told me" or "a doctor said." But it is mighty rare that I am ever told who the "somebody" was or the "doctor" is identified.

The question in today's letter, about the Pure Food Law, is a good one. The Food and Drug Administration is constantly running tests on all sorts of materials, and refuses to permit use of anything that is shown to be harmful.

My advice to worriers is to remember this fact. The Food and Drug Administration people are capable, energetic, and intent on doing their job well, and I, for one, trust them. (Recently the complaint has been that they are too cautious in some respects.)

Worrying about what "somebody" says about preservatives, sweeteners, and other such items accomplishes nothing, so far as I can see, except to give you an unnecessary case of nerves.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am 84 and in fairly good health except that I have been troubled with hemorrhoids for over 30 years. My doctor says I should have been operated on when I was younger, but at age 84 he doesn't want to. I sit in hot water and use an ointment, and when I get constipated I take milk of magnesia. Is there anything else I could do? — J. D.

The Sitz baths, which you are using, and an ointment with pain-relieving properties are excellent measures. But try to avoid constipation — keep the stool soft by use of bulk in your diet or by stool softeners. Letting yourself become constipated is not only painful but makes the condition worse. Since your doctor doesn't want to operate, he might consider injection treatments.

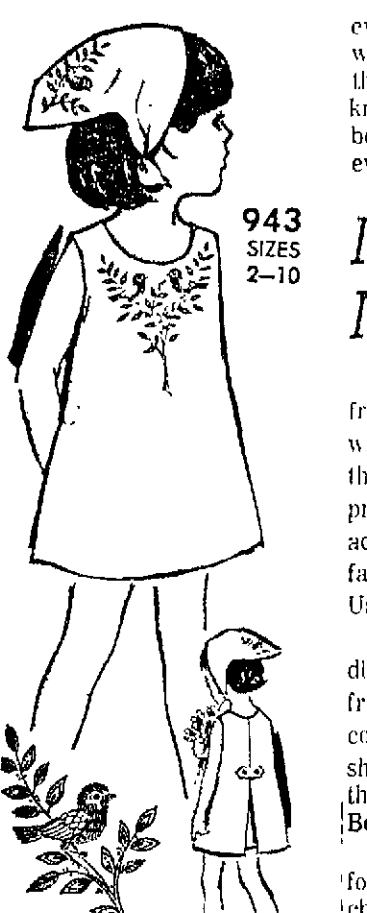

It's a mistake, as you know, to put off having hemorrhoids, that others will take heed. (Copyright, 1968)

Mom's Freedom to Work May Cause Guilt Feelings

The mother who has the freedom to choose whether she will work or stay at home with the family may suffer the problem of a guilty conscience, according to Kathryn Beach, family living instructor at the University of Wisconsin.

A mother of the educated middle income group often has this freedom to choose. She may have conflicting feelings about what she wants to do and what she thinks she should do, says Mrs. Beach.

The mother who must work for financial reasons has no choice. For example, when the father of a young family is going to school, mother will not feel guilty about working. She is working for one important goal — education.

Husband Must Agree
The middle income mother who has extra time may want to use it fully. She sometimes feels that society is now saying that she should go out and work. If she doesn't want to leave her children during the day, she feels guilty about having such a luxury.

A woman may also feel guilty about not using her education. If she decides to wait for her children to grow up before she works, her education may be obsolete.

A happy mother makes a happy family, says Mrs. Beach. Most mothers need to get away from the tedium and monotony of daily routine when there are young children.

How a mother chooses to take time off from mothering depends on the individual. One mother may need only a few minutes a day with her neighbor or an afternoon a week with her bridge club. But others may need more time away. A part-time or full-time job is what they look for.

Even though a mother knows what she needs to do to refresh herself, her husband may not understand. The decision to work must be backed up by the husband. A woman should be a wife first, says Mrs. Beach. If her husband is not in favor of her decision to work, the situation may be an unhappy one and these feelings are then conveyed to the children in many subtle ways.

State Campuses Face Crisis in Dormitory Space, Regents Told

Presidents Forsee Difficulties By 1970; Seek Immediate Action

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Wisconsin's state university system is moving toward a crisis in dormitory housing space, the Board of Regents of State Universities has been warned.

Eugene R. McPhee, director of the state system, said Friday that the schools will face a difficult time in providing adequate rooming space for all projected students seeking it.

McPhee said immediate action to start a building program aimed at providing new rooms by 1970 will be asked at the July board meeting, and after that, of the state building commission.

His proposal came in the wake of a moratorium slapped on state university dormitory construction several months ago by state officials. Charges of overbuilding and under-occupancy had been leveled at the state university system.

That building ban stopped construction on dormitories planned for use in 1969, but left hanging in limbo plans for new buildings projected for use in 1970.

A parade of state university presidents followed McPhee's statements, telling board members of housing difficulties on their campuses throughout the nine-campus system.

President Roger Guiles, of WSU-Oshkosh, told the board: "I think we'll be in reasonably good shape" in 1968. The dormitories will be initially overloaded by about 10 per cent that year, he said, with severe shortages becoming apparent in 1969.

Fill To Capacity

"This year we're going to fill all 5,200 beds and probably a few more, but in that next year we will need more and we have none under construction," said Guiles.

WSU-LaCrosse President Samuel Gates said that on his campus only freshman are required to live in university dormitories. He said the structures are filled to 99 per cent of capacity. LaCrosse also provides 200 beds for the local vocational school.

WSU-River Falls President Richard Delorit, however, said: "We'll have room."

WSU-Whitewater reported that while single-student housing facilities are adequate, the school faces a severe shortage of housing for married students.

At WSU-Eau Claire, reported President Leonard Haas, there will be a shortage of about 500 beds this fall.

"It looks to me like we're going to be in desperate shape next fall and in even worse shape in 1970," commented McPhee to his board.

Popcorn Stand Damaged in Fire

Fire that started when grease overheated in a popcorn machine caused extensive smoke, fire, and heat damage about 2:15 p.m. Friday at a popcorn stand at 2106 S. Oneida Street.

The stand is operated by Mrs. Clifford Selig, 334 E. Randall Ave. Firemen said someone forgot to turn off the popcorn making machine, causing grease to overheat and ignite. Firemen were at the scene 15 minutes.

At 12:50 p.m. Friday, firemen were summoned to the alley behind 115 W. College Avenue on a reported car fire. They found that a heater hose had broken on a car operated by Mrs. Hunter Lake, route 3, causing steam to come from under the hood.

KIMBERLY — Mr. and Mrs. Herman Fink, 499 E. 15th St., Kaukauna, were reported in good condition Friday at the Kaukauna Community Hospital where they were taken following a two-car accident Thursday night.

Police said Herman Fink, 69, was driving east on Kimberly Avenue and pulled from a stop sign into the path of a car being driven north on Washington Street by Nicholas Huisman, 40, 227 Kamps St., Kimberly.

The impact sent the Fink vehicle skidding over a curb into a tree. Damage was estimated at about $800. The injured were taken to the hospital by Larry's Ambulance Service. Fink was cited for failure to yield right of way.

Students May Win Chance to Buy TextBooks

Board of Regents OKs 'Local Option' Policy for 1968-9

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — State university students may win the opportunity to buy rather than rent their textbooks in the future.

The Board of Regents of State Universities has approved a "local option" plan which will allow the administrators of the nine state universities to decide whether students will be allowed to purchase books or continue renting them under traditional policies on each individual campus.

The action came several months after WSU-Superior President Karl Meyer forced the issue by asking permission to drop out of the program and to allow students to purchase their own texts.

Among the "fringe benefits" he listed for the program was the fact that the added book-purchasing power would make it possible for a good book store to be started in the Lake Superior shore community.

Without such a shop, students are disadvantaged, Meyer argued. Superior currently lacks such an outlet.

The regents agreed to start the new approach to supplying texts, but noted that on some campuses the students, faculty and administration might prefer to continue renting the books. They agreed to allow their executive committee to receive plans for alternative approaches to book supplies from the cam-

Police Checking Shooting Incident

Appleton police are investigating a shooting incident that damaged a garage door and car at the Robert Wendt home, 1024 W. Marquette St., early Saturday.

Police, who were called to the home at 2:35 a.m., said what appeared to be a bullet from a high-powered rifle went through the garage door and penetrated the trunk, rear seat, front seat and windshield of Wendt's 1960 auto parked inside the garage.

The bullet probably was fired from a passing auto, police said. There was a hole ¼ inch in diameter in the garage door.

uses and to approve text-purchase programs.

The regents also authorized WSU-Superior to move to a text purchase plan immediately.

Regent Allan L. Edgerton, of Fond du Lac, warned of high state expenses if schools are allowed to "zig-zag" between text purchase and rental schemes.

He was assured by W. Roy Kopp of Platteville, regent education committee chairman, that once a campus wins approval to change its procedures, another change for the same school "will not be approved for a goof many years."

WSU-Oshkosh President Roger Guiles, president of the system's Council of Presidents, urged the Board to consider transferring the level of rental fees charged students under such a program to a local-option basis.

The fees are now set at $15 a semester throughout the system, and have not been changed for some time, he told the board.

A survey taken of selected courses on the nine campuses showed that average semester costs for texts for the selected programs could range between $39 a semester to $62. Advantages include possession of the text after completion of the course, plus the ability to mark it fully for study purposes.

Two Companions Sentenced
To Ten Years for Aiding and

Calling attention to the fact that "their degree of involvement differed," Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer late this morning sentenced one Green Bay youth to 25 years in the state reformatory and two companions each to 10 years for their parts in the stabbing death April 22 of a Green Bay barber.

Ronald Huff, 19, drew the maximum 25-year sentence for the second degree murder of Ronald Burnham, 29, whose stabbed and bound body was found in a milkhouse on the deserted Milton Peters farm south of Seymour April 29.

Huff's brother, Myron, 17, and David Lee Moureaux, also 17, were sentenced to 10 years each for aiding and abetting in the commission of second degree murder. Sentences for both second degree murder and aiding and abetting carry five-year minimums.

Ronald Huff, who last spring was released from the state reformatory, originally was charged with first degree murder and the two accomplices were charged with aiding and abetting in first degree murder.

However, the charges were reduced June 7 on a motion by Dist. Atty. George J. Griesch who said, "If any of these three was convicted of first degree murder, it would be a miscar-

Outagamie County police identified the drivers as Ronald F. Mohr, 77, rural New London, and Dennis L. Mereness, 38, 524 W. Eighth St., Kaukauna.

Mohr was taken to New London Community Hospital for treatment of head injuries, and Mereness was taken to Kaukauna Community Hospital with knees, head, and left shoulder injuries.

Two passengers in the Mohr car were hurt. They were Irene Jennerjohn, 79, 404 W. ## Buckley Notified Building Code Needs Amending Before HUD OKs Housing Program

Amendments will have to be made to Appleton's housing code, which would cover rental and owner-occupied dwellings before the city's workable program can be certified by federal officials.

Mayor George Buckley received the information today from John E. Kane, Chicago, assistant regional administrator for program coordination and services of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

The correspondence referred to the Appleton Housing Authority's request for getting its workable program for community improvement certified by HUD so a housing-for-the-elderly project could be undertaken with assistance of federal aids.

Assembly Committee
The original application for certification had been assembled by the Mayor's Citizens Advisory Committee.

After the application was submitted through the office of City Planner Walter Rasmussen, HUD contacted local officials and said some revisions would be made.

On June 10 the mayor's office submitted to HUD the proposed amendments which Kane said in his letter are "equal to new federal government criteria or better than model codes in required by a workable program."

However, Kane indicated that while the city's building codes (revised and adopted in 1964) were for the most part satisfactory, they needed some amendments and restrictions on residential units.

The housing code has no relation whatsoever to open or fair housing. Housing codes deal with requirements and restrictions on residential units.

Police Give Tips How to Bamboozle Burglars During Your Summer Vacation

Want to invite a burglary while you're away on vacation? It's simple. You could put a big sign in your yard. Or, just as simply and effectively, you could leave your porch cluttered with circulars, milk bottles and mail, or leave the lawn unkempt, or leave your window shades and blinds closed.

The week of June 23-29 is National Burglary Prevention Week. Appleton police offered several tips which if followed, could help keep the city's 1968 burglary count under the 171 total of last year. Summer vacation season is "open season" for burglars, police warned.

Police List
Following is a list of precautions police urge homeowners on vacation to follow:

Close and lock all doors, including porch, basement and garage. Use pin-tumbler cylinder locks on outside entrances and safety latches on the windows.

Connect a lamp to an automatic timer to turn lights in the home on and off each evening.

Light up the porch and yard with outdoor lights, which also can be time-controlled.

Be sure all screens are fastened from the inside.

Notify the police department of departure and return times.

Cancel all deliveries and have a neighbor or the post office hold all mail.

Arrange to have the lawn mowed once a week.

Protect doors and windows with an inexpensive, portable burglary alarm which sounds whenever someone attempts to break in.

Postmaster Choice Ticklish Business

BY CLIFF MILLER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Local Democrats expect to know in two weeks whether the state's two U.S. Senators approve the county party's choice of a postmaster here, and of the method chosen by the local party to limit the amount of politics in making the appointment.

The former postmaster, Ray Novotny, retired at the start of this month. The vacancy confronted the county party unit with trying to live up to its declaration of last January that the civil service system, rather than politics, should choose postmasters.

The party's decision also lays a potential trap for local Republicans, depending upon the November Presidential election outcome.

William Wingren, Oshkosh, county Democratic chairman, said at the time of the declaration the executive committee "virtually renounced its patronage privileges."

The Democrats declared that "civil service nominations will be made on the basis of total accumulated civil service points rather than prior political involvements."

Fond du Lac Hassle

The declaration was made during a hassle in neighboring Fond du Lac County which later ended with the top-scoring applicant in civil service examinations losing out to the favorite of the controlling segment of the local party unit.

The Winnebago County party, according to Wingren, has chosen a present member of the Post Office staff who is of supervisory rank, and referred the matter through state party chairman Richard Cudahy to the state's two U.S. Senators, Gaylord Nelson and William Proxmire, both Democrats.

Within two weeks, the senators are expected to say whether they approve of the recommendation, in which case they will in turn recommend that the nominee be given a "noncompetitive examination," meaning he will be the only applicant tested.

One effect of the method is to eliminate the possibility of someone from outside the Post Office being handed the job for political reasons. The job entails a starting salary of $11,951 which can climb with seniority to a top of $15,688. The local Post Office serves as a sectional center through which mail from a large surrounding area is funneled.

Open Exams

The alternate method would be to conduct open examinations, leaving it up to the local party unit to choose any one of the three top scorers for recommendation.

The appointment in either case goes eventually to Washington for confirmation in the Senate.

One possible advantage of the method being used here, according to party spokesmen, is being run without permanent postmasters as long as 8 years are recorded.

The time it takes to get the results of the closed examination is expected to be shorter than tabulating the outcome of open testing.

Klein Agrees With Planners On Bridge Site

MENASHA — Controversy over the location of the proposed Ninth Street Bridge appears to have evaporated as a result of a change of city administration.

The Winnebago County Board special committee studying the bridge issue was scheduled to reactivate it today after months of silence, and the first question that had to be settled was the location issue.

But, Mayor John Klein said today the location had been recommended by an advisory committee of the former Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission, and the mayor added, "I go along with their recommendation."

Hot Point

Former Mayor Kenneth Holmes had made the matter a hot point in city-town relations last fall when the Winnebago County Board deliberated on a plan providing $100,000 for preliminary

Condition of Victim Hampers Beating Case

GREEN BAY — Police investigation into the beating and alleged rape of a Green Bay woman who was found early the morning of June 12 lying severely beaten along U.S. 41 west of Neenah have been hampered by the poor condition of the victim.

"We are waiting for the young lady to improve to the degree that we can take her fingerprints and she is able to visually identify pictures of likely suspects," Green Bay Chief of Police Elmer Madsen said today.

Investigators from the Green Bay Police Department have interviewed the victim at Theda Clark Hospital where she is reported today as "general condition improving." Police are waiting for the woman's hands to be unbanded, "because her fingers were broken" and for her vision to improve so she can identify pictures.

"Then we will have a composite picture of the man we are looking for," Chief Madsen explained.

The special investigators from inary land purchases and engineering studies.

Holmes had made much of the fact that current plans show the east end of the bridge across Little Lake Butte des Morts touching shore roughly 1,000 feet north of the city limits in the Town of Menasha.

Street Extension Might Go Before Winnebago Board

MENASHA — The proposed extension of Calumet Street connecting Foster Street near Valley Fair with U.S. 10 will be brought to the Winnebago County Board.

Town of Menasha Chairman Roland Kampe has asked for the backing of members of the county highway committee in his plans for the route.

Several county supervisors were uncertain Monday whether the Town of Menasha could construct a road through a lot on U.S. 10 which presently is in the city limit of Appleton.

Town board members have been working on plans to connect Foster St. near Valley Fair Shopping Center to U.S. 10 for the past two years.

However, Appleton officials, including city planner Walter Rasmussen, have opposed the town's route, feeling that the Calumet Street extension should be constructed along the county line.

Extra Costs

Town Chairman Roland Kampe told supervisors that Appleton's plan would mean the town would have to purchase several existing buildings and have expensive right-of-way costs.

The street extension as proposed by town officials called for 48 foot pavement within an 80 foot right-of-way on a line from Foster near Valley Fair to the continuation of Appleton's Calumet Street at U.S. 10.

Stolen Car Smashed Hospital Escapee Leads Wrong-Way Chase

NEENAH — An 18-year-old escapee from Winnebago State Hospital was apprehended early Sunday morning after he had led police on a chase down the wrong lane of U.S. 41, driving a stolen car, and finally crashed into a bridge abutment.

A Neenah police officer, making a routine check of buildings on Gillingham Road, noticed a car traveling north in the south-bound lane of U.S. 41 shortly before 4 a.m.

As the officer, Ronald Peppel, attempted to overtake the car, the driver started to swerve on the roadway and tried to force the squad car off the road.

Peppel radioed for help and Officer Peter Kaul set up a roadblock at the overpass at State 150.

Tackled Driver

When the driver saw the roadblock, he served to the left and struck the railing of the bridge. The youth then got out of the car and started to run. Peppel and Kaul gave chase and finally "tackled" the driver.

The motorist was taken to Theda Clark Hospital after he complained of a sore leg and then was brought to the police station for questioning.

At first, police were unable to determine the driver's name. But then they discovered he had walked away from the mental institution Saturday evening.

Total Loss

The 1960 model car, which was listed as a total loss, was stolen from the Bergstrom Paper Co. lot on U.S. 41, after 11 p.m. Saturday. The keys were in the ignition, police said.

The car is owned by Robert Protheroe, 504 Broad St., Menasha.

Redlegs Take Pair From Cubs

McCovey, Marichal Combo Paces 2-1 Victory for Giants

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Willie McCovey is a firm believer in that maxim: Out of sight, out of mind. And he's getting his message across to the Pittsburgh Pirates.

McCovey unloaded a pair of tape measure home runs Sunday, giving Juan Marichal and the San Francisco Giants a 2-1 victory over Pittsburgh. . . and driving the Pirates up the walls of cavernous Forbes Field.

"I don't get any thrill out of hitting the ball real far. . . I just want it to go out of the park," said the slugging first baseman, who has hit seven of his National League leading 18 homers in the Giants' last seven games against the Pirates.

Marichal's 14th victory—tops in the majors—enabled the second-place Giants to trim one-half game off St. Louis' league lead. The Cardinals had their seven-game winning string sliced by Atlanta 5-1 in the opener of a doubleheader, but rebounded for a 3-1 second game victory that left them 6½ lengths in front.

Cincinnati swept a twin bill from the Chicago Cubs 9-8 and 4-3, the nightcap going 11 innings, while the New York Mets edged Los Angeles 5-4 and Houston tripped Philadelphia 7-4 in other single games.

McCovey took exception to his own rule in the first inning at Pittsburgh when the first of his two homers off Jim Bunning sailed onto the 86-foot high roof of the double deck right field stands. "I watched it all the way," he admitted. "I knew it cleared the stands."

But he shrugged off a reminder that the roof had been reached only 12 times before in Forbes Field's 59-year history. "That sounds like quite a lot to me," said Willie.

McCovey's second homer—and third in two games—was a

White Sox Gain Split; Cubs Drop Pair to Cincinnati

CHICAGO (AP) — "I've been pressing, and I finally decided just to meet the ball," said Pete Ward.

Ward snapped out of a 0-for-18 batting slump in Sunday's second game and drove in five Chicago White Sox runs in a 10-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox. Chicago's 15 hits in the rain-interrupted game were high for the season. It was Pete's best RBI day of the year.

Ward collected a two-run single in a four-run first inning and a three-run homer in a three-run second as the White Sox piled up 10 runs in the first four innings.

Wilbur Wood, called in from the bullpen for his first start, coasted to a 10-hit victory and padded his record to 5-2.

Also high in Chicago's hitting parade was Duane Josephson

Ferry Pitches No-Hitter in District Semi-Pro Tourney

Garsow's Wins; Clintonville and Two Rivers Also Gain Semis

MENASHA — A 9-0 no-hitter by Garsow's Dan Ferry against Black Creek Sunday afternoon highlighted quarter-final play in the Fox Valley district baseball tournament here.

The 7-inning triumph moved the Dairyland League entry into next Saturday night's semi-finals along with two Rivers and Clintonville.

The initial weekend's slate of six games missed its target by one when Sunday night's windup between the Menasha Macs and Reedsville was rained out and reset for 1 p.m. Saturday.

Clintonville earned its place in the final four by blanking Bonduel, 13-0, in an abbreviated Sunday night affair. Most of the game was played in the rain and was called after five innings.

Two Rivers claimed its berth in the semis on the strength of a 7-6 conquest of Freedom.

In Saturday night's first round play, Reedsville ousted Symco, 7-1, and Bonduel stopped Navarro, 9-3.

Strikes Out 9

Ferry struck out nine, walked eight and hit a batter in the no-hit victory. The victors hammered out 12 hits off Tom Hildebrandt and Jerry Rohm and scored six times in the second.

Jim Brueckner made three hits for Garsow's and Jim De Waal and John Garsow each had two.

The Freedom-Two Rivers test went eight innings and saw the Polar Bears tally once in the final segment and the Mets send across three in the bottom of the frame.

Two Rivers scored the decisive marker on Mike Turman's triple and an error. Freedom collected its three on back-to-back, bases-empty homers by Dick Vande Wetering and Vern Bowers, an error, a stolen base and two infield outs.

Joe Stoker pitched for the Polar Bears and also stroked a homer as did Turman and Bill Grimm.

Turman's three hits led the

Boehmer Homers

The Foxes had tallied single runs in the third and sixth innings, the former on a home run to left field by third-baseman Jerry Boehmer.

The Cubs nicked Foxes' starter Ken Frailing for one run in the first on two hits, and two more markers in the third on three hits. One of the blows was a bases-empty homer to right by Mike Lisetski.

Bob Michelotti's single produced two more runs in the fifth off reliever Rick Jones.

What gets under Chevrolet's skin?

Beneath Chevrolet's thick skin (double-walled in most places) lies a truck chassis built for punishment. A heavy-gauge steel frame provides the solid backbone for this inner strength. While a host of durable driveline components supply the muscle, Enough to whip most any job.

Of course, the heart of all this brawn is a Chevrolet engine. Six or V8, all are built for stamina. They last longer because of such things as induction-hardened crankshaft journals. Inexpensive to operate, too. All run on regular gasoline.

Keeping everything riding smoothly is the job of Chevy's famed independent front suspension. And what a job it does! Combined with tough coil springs, front and rear, this suspension system cushions the entire truck from jarring road shock.

So you see, beautiful engineering is more than skin deep on Chevrolet.

Nicklaus Runnerup Canadian Open Title Won by Bob Charles

TORONTO (AP) — It's getting to be a habit. Bob Charles of New Zealand won the $125,000 Canadian Open Golf Championship Sunday and became the second golfer in eight days to ignore a final-round charge by Jack Nicklaus. Lee Trevino did it a week earlier and won the U.S. Open. "And I didn't turn my back on Jack's tee shots," said the left-handed swinger when asked if the booming Nicklaus drives disturbed him. "Actually, I wanted to see where he was hitting them."

Charles shot a four-under-par 66 during Sunday's final round for a six-under-par 274 and picked up $25,000.

Nicklaus, who staged a head-to-head battle with Charles over the final 18 holes of the 6,792-yard St. George's Golf Club layout, said later that the New Zealander's game was "just too good."

Putted Better

"He just flat beat me. I thought I putted considerably better than I did in the first three rounds, but he putted better. Every putt he makes looks

French Driver 'Serious' After 7-Car Crash Britain's Williams Monza Grand Prix Winner in Brabham

MONZA, Italy (AP) — French racing driver Jean Pierre Jassaud is hospitalized with a serious head injury today following a spectacular seven-car smash-up during the Monza Grand Prix Formula Two race Sunday.

Physicians said Jassaud suffered a skull concussion, fractured his left knee and multiple fractures of his ribs. They added that it would take him months to recover.

The accident occurred about halfway through the race when three Ferrari Dino cars collided and burst into flames. The other four autos smashed into the wreckage.

Jassaud was the only driver injured seriously.

Jonathan Williams of Britain won the race, taking his Brabham over the 160 miles in one hour, 14 minutes, 9.8 seconds for an average time of 130 miles per hour. Britons Alan Rees, in a Brabham, and Robin Williams, in a McLaren, were second and third, respectively.

Jackie Stewart Drives French Car to Victory Takes Dutch Grand Prix Despite Heavy Rain During Race

ZANDVOORT, Netherlands (AP) — Jackie Stewart a tiny Scot with an injured right wrist, drove a faltering Matra to victory in the Dutch Grand Prix to give a French car its first world championship win in 16 years.

Although the car was powered by a British engine, the French triumph in Grand Prix auto racing was rammed home by the second placing of a French driver in a French car.

Jean-Pierre Beltoise finished a half lap behind Stewart in a Matra-Matra. In a race marred by heavy showers, which kept speeds down, Stewart was the master of the day.

Ten laps from the end he had built up a 90-second lead after lapping all the field. Then with victory virtually assured, his car began to falter but he staggered to the finish to take the checkered flag and record a popular victory.

One Lap Behind

The Mexican driver, Pedro Rodriguez, in a BRM finished third, one lap behind the French cars. An Italian Ferrari, piloted by Jackie Ickx of Belgium, was fourth.

In the rain-swept conditions, driver after driver spun off the track and retired. Notable among these was the Belgian Lucien Bianchi, who knocked over a police official early in the race when he went through a wire fence. Neither the driver nor the policeman was hurt.

Others to quit after leaving the track included Jack Brabham of Australia in a Brabham, Bruce McLaren of New Zealand, in a McLaren and Graham Hill of Britain, in a Lotus.

Hill's retirement came after two spins, the second one nine laps from the finish when he was fourth.

The world champion positions are:

1. Graham Hill 24 points
2. Jackie Stewart 12, tied for 3, Dennis Hulme and Pedro Rodriguez 10
3. Bruce McLaren and Jean Pierre Beltoise 9
4. 7. Jackie Ickx 7
8. Richard Attwood 6
9. Nine of the 19 drivers from 10 nations were listed as finishers.

The final placing was:

1. Jackie Stewart, Britain, Matra-Ford 02:46:11.26
2. Jean Pierre Beltoise,

Twins' Griffith Says Sox Should Consider More Milwaukee Tilts

MILWAUKEE (AP) — If the Chicago White Sox want to expand their special game schedule in Milwaukee County Stadium next season, they have the backing of the Minnesota Twins' Cal Griffith.

The Twins owner, whose team meets the White Sox tonight in one of the nine regular-season "home" games Chicago scheduled in Milwaukee, said it might also be worthwhile for the Chicago Cubs to consider a 1969 series in Milwaukee.

Griffith, in a weekend telephone conversation from Minneapolis, said he is pleased with the large crowds being drawn to County Stadium for the 1968

Can't Forget 51,000

Griffith added he can't easily forget the 51,000 Milwaukee fans who turned out last summer for a Twins-White Sox exhibition game.

The White Sox, he said, should consider doubling their 1969 schedule in Milwaukee. If Sox owner "Arthur Allyn asked for it, I'd pull for it," Griffith said.

Griffith said that "even a complete series against each team the White Sox are playing in Milwaukee in the future would be an ideal situation."

Contract terms in Minneapolis probably would prevent the Twins from playing "home" games in Milwaukee, Griffith said.

But, he added, "it wouldn't be a bad idea for the Cubs to play some night games in Milwaukee—say, on a weekend their fans are crying for night baseball."

Dick Tracewski's 'Annual' Homer Gives Tigers Split

By HAL BOCK

There was the faintest sign of a crack showing in Detroit's armor but Dick Tracewski's annual home runs sealed it right up.

The Tigers had dropped three straight to Cleveland and another loss to the challenging Indians could have meant real trouble for the American League leaders.

So manager Mayo Smith, taking no chances, went to his secret weapon, starting Tracewski in the second game of Sunday's doubleheader. The veteran infielder produced a three-run homer that carried the Tigers to a 4-1 victory after Luis Tiant had blanked them 3-0 in the first game.

The homer was Tracewski's fifth major league career shot, leaving him 709 behind Babe Ruth's record.

New London's Legion Team Nips Kimberly

Thorn, Baehman Preserve 3-2 Win For Terry Wing

NEW LONDON — The New London Legion Baseball team scored a 3-2 decision over Kimberly in a Fox Valley League Central division contest here Saturday night.

New London chased starter Ralph Kalies from the mound in the fifth inning on three straight bunts against the sore-footed hurler Kalies had stepped on a nail earlier in the day.

Terry Hanson rifled two throws from center field in the contest to keep Kimberly from scoring. In the eighth inning, Matt Nirschl led off with a walk, moved to second and with two out caced for home on a single to center, however, Hanson's throw was perfect to erase the apparent second run for Kimberly.

New London came back in the bottom of the fourth inning to score the tying run after Kimberly pushed across a single run in the opening half of the inning. A single by Jeff Hass and three New London errors accounted for Kimberly's run.

Safe on Error

John Kaepnick was safe on an infield error, moved to second on the same error and was advanced to third on an infield out to the left side of the field Tom Meyer sacrificed in the run.

Corky Smith relieved Kalies with one out in the fifth and men at second and third and was greeted with Greg Wing's run-scoring single.

New London added an insurance run in the sixth on a pair of singles and an error. Kimberly rallied for one run in the ninth.

Terry Wing took the victory, hurling 5 2-3 innings striking out seven, walking one and yielding six hits. John Thorn pitched three innings, walking three, striking out three and allowing three hits. Greg Baehman struck out the final batter.

Kalies struck out nine in 4 1-3 innings, gave up two runs, three hits and no walks. Smith fanned four, walked none and allowed eight hits.

Greg Wing collected three hits and Bob McIlraith had two for New London. Jay Wyngaard and Bill Kaufman had two each for the losers.

Fregosi Hero Again

Late-Inning Wins Trademark of Angels

ANAHEIM (AP)—Bill Rigney was ejected from six early season games, when the California Angels were having trouble winning.

"Now I'm afraid to argue with the umpires," he says, "because I want to be around in the ninth inning. I don't want to miss something exciting."

The Angels are fast becoming the late-inning champions of baseball, winning 11 times this season in their final turn at bat.

Jim Fregosi, who had beaten the Yankees with a twelfth-inning homer last Monday night, became the hero again here Sunday when he opened the ninth inning with a homer to give the Angels a 3-2 victory over Baltimore. It was the sixth time in their last eight victories that the Angels have done it in the final inning.

Pet Theory

Fregosi has hit three homers in his last six games, disproving what once was one of Rigney's pet theories.

"I used to hate to see Jimmy hit a home run," Rigney said late Sunday, "because it would take him a week to get over it. He'd start swinging for the fences and I've always thought he was a better hitter when he just tried to meet the ball. But he's really getting the job done now."

The winning homer off Oriole right-hander Tom Phoebus, 6-7, surprised the Angels' $60,000-a-year shortstop.

"I can't remember ever getting a hit off him before," said Fregosi. "I think he's one of the toughest pitchers in the league."

Fregosi had to share backslaps with Vic Davalillo, the five-foot seven-inch, 150-pound outfielder and leadoff man who has helped the Angels win five of six starts since he arrived here following a trade with Cleveland.

Davalillo hit a third-inning double and a sixth-inning triple to drive in the Angels' first two runs off Phoebus. A walk to base by pitcher Billy Rohr. Horpitcher Tom Murphy, plus a wild pitch, set up one run and Ed Kirkpatrick.

Davalillo has had a hand in the triple followed a pinch sin-four the Angels' last five victories.

Knee Injury

The little Venezuelan said he is just beginning to recover from a knee injury that sidelined him for a week just before the Angels acquired him from the Indians.

"And I'm still trying to get over that one slump I had," he said. Davalillo was hitting .290 early this spring, but went 2-for-32 on a Cleveland road trip and saw his average drop to .220.

Jack Hamilton and Clyde Wright pitched three scoreless innings of relief Sunday after starter Murphy gave up two runs in six. Don Buford hit a third-inning homer for the Orioles and they got another run after Frank Robinson and Brooks Robinson hit singles in the sixth. Curt Blefary broke a 1-1 tie in that inning with a sacrifice fly.

Wright, 6-2, gained the victory.

The Orioles were fuming, afterward, over a second-inning ruling Brooks Robinson and Blefary hit singles with none out, but Dave Johnson hit a grounder and the Angels were given a double play when it was ruled that Blefary interfered with Fregosi at second base.

Tony Horton Will Be Sidelined for At Least a Week

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland first baseman Tony Horton suffered an injury to his left knee in the seventh inning of Sunday's second game against the Detroit Tigers and will be out of action at least a week.

Horton's leg buckled under him in an unsuccessful attempt to tag Mickey Stanley in a run-down after the Detroit center to drive in the Angels' first two runs off Phoebus. A walk to base by pitcher Billy Rohr. Horpitcher Tom Murphy, plus a wild pitch, set up one run and Ed Kirkpatrick.

Bodway was the standout as he had two rounds better than the state record of 770. Don had 774 for his first round and 772 for his second as he captured the men's title with a 1,546 total.

with two singles and a homer good for three runs.

The White Sox had to rebound from a 6-2 opening loss in which Ward was hitless. They were stifled on a six-hitter by Gary Bell who also drove in a pair of Boston runs.

Ken Berry's No. 4 homer in the fifth, and a pinch double by Buddy Bradford and a single by Luis Aparicio in the eighth accounted for the Sox two runs.

Jack Fisher, bombed out in the fourth, absorbed the loss making him 2-4.

Chicago faces the Minnesota Twins in Milwaukee Monday night with Bob Priddy (0-3) going against Dean Chance (6-8). The Cubs dropped a pair in Cincinnati 9-8 and 4-3 and now have lost eight of their last nine games.

Don Pavletich's two-run double capped a three-run ninth inning that gave the Reds the opener in overcoming a 15-hit Cub attack. Adolfo Phillips' homer and Randy Hundley's three runs-batted-in launched the Cubs to a 7-3 lead.

In the nightcap, Tony Perez raced home with the decisive Red run in the 11th inning on Tommy Helms' force out. Ron Santo's two-run single in the third pushed the Cubs to a 2-2 tie and loser Fergie Jenkins' single made it 3-2. But the Reds tied it on Lee May's single in the fourth.

Rich Nye (4-7) is the Cubs' mound choice against Larry Dierker (6-10) in Houston to night.

Dyer Sets Funny Car Drag Record at KK

KAUKAUNA — Gary Dyer of Chicago set a new track record for super-charged funny cars, as he piloted his Dodge dragster down the quarter-mile strip in 7.76 seconds with a top speed of 185.96 miles per hour in the feature event here Sunday.

Dyer beat Larry Arnold, of Chicago, three drags in a row to win the feature event.

Jerry Weith, Des Plaines, Ill., drove his Quartermaster dragster to a win in the nitro fuel competition with an elapsed time of 7.72 seconds and a speed of 201.40 m.p.h.

The superstock winner was Oshkosh's Tom Spanbauer in a '68 Hemi Dodge Dart with an ET of 11.67 and a speed of 108.43 m.p.h.

Sheboygan's Dennis Schwartz captured top honors in the little stock division with an ET of 18.39 seconds and a speed of 73.46 m.p.h. in a '57 Chevy.

Paul Tibbith, Fond du Lac, was the junior stock winner in his '67 Chevy with an ET of 18.39 seconds and speed of 112.92 m.p.h.

Green Bay's Larry Bannis was the middle stock winner with an ET of 13.45 and speed of 103.09 m.p.h. in his '68 Chevrolet.

Among the day's trophy winners were Charles Feavel, Mike Marta and Tony Bowmann, all from Appleton, and Don Borsch from Combined Locks.

Feavel took honors in Class M-F-A in a '66 Ford with an ET of 18.31 seconds and a speed of 75.18 seconds. Borsche was the winner of Class D-S-A in a '68 Ford with an ET of 14.38 seconds and a speed of 97.93 m.p.h. Marta was Class G-S winner in a '66 Pontiac with an ET of 15.41 seconds and top speed of 90 m.p.h. Bowmann was E-B motorcycle winner with an ET of 15.39 seconds and speed of 82.04 seconds.

Trickle topped the 40-lap event by some three car lengths over Wausau's Dave Marcis. Marcis drove a 1966 Chevelle, the same car that carried him to a 10th place finish in a prestigious Rockingham, N. C., race last week.

Third place went to Stevens Point's Rich Sommers in a 1964 Mercury, followed by Jerry Smith, Medina, 1961 Ford; Dave Emmil, Rockford, Ill., 1966 Chevelle; Bill Nelson, Minneapolis, Minn., 1967 Hemi Plymouth; Jerry Smith, Appleton, 1968 Plymouth Roadrunner; and Bobby Kempen, Hilbert, 1967 Hemi Dodge.

Rudolph's Tom Ressler was holding down the third spot in the feature, when his brakes failed on the 38th lap and his car hit the wall in the fourth turn. Ressler was uninjured.

Three more cars were damaged in separate incidents. Dick Glaser, driving a car owned by Appleton's Bob Schultz, was unhurt when the throttle stuck on his 1966 Chevelle during practice. The car was nearly demolished as it hit the wall in the No. 2 turn.

A pair of Two Rivers drivers, Bill Fitzgerald and Don Kracht, were forced out of the competition when drive shafts on their 1966 Chevelles exploded.

Trickle also added to his honors by winning the 8-lap trophy dash and the 15-lap second heat. Marcis took first in the first heat, and Ressler grabbed the No. 3 heat.

Second place finishes went to George Giesen, Menasha; Jerry Smith, Appleton; and Jerry Smith, Medina (2). Dick Johnson, St. Paul, Minn., took one third, along with Medina's Smith, Ressler, and Emmil.

his hitting streak to 22 games and scored on Matty Alou's double.

Marichal, 14-2, wouldn't discuss his prospects for a 30-victory year.

49,743 on Hand
While Marichal was taming the Pirates, a pair of unheralded hurlers—Atlanta reliever Cecil Upshaw and St. Louis southpaw Mel Nelson—divided the spoils before a record regular season crowd of 49,743 at Busch Stadium.

Upshaw allowed only two hits over the final 7½ innings of the opener after the Braves chased St. Louis starter Nelson Briles with a four-run first-inning flurry.

"I'm a short reliever, but I keep getting in these long pitching situations," said Upshaw, who took over for Dick Kelley after Orlando Cepeda had clipped the Atlanta starter for a second-inning homer. "After the game they told me I was in the bullpen for the second game. That shook me up."

Nelson, recalled from the minors last week, fired a six-inning and held the Braves to an unearned run in the nightcap for his first major league triumph since 1963...and his first ever as a starter. Catcher Johnny Edwards backed his battery-mate with a triple and single, good for three RBI.

Freashish Play
The Reds completed their sweep on a freashish 11th-inning force play that deprived Tommy Helms of a single but sent Tony Perez home with the winning run.

With one out and the bases loaded, Helms' blooper fell in front of right fielder Al Spangler, who recovered the ball and forced Lee May at second as Perez trotted across the plate.

May had driven in the Reds' first three runs with a homer and single.

Don Pavletich's two-run double climaxed a three-run ninth inning rally that carried Cincinnati from behind the first game.

The Mets again climbed within one victory of the elusive .500 mark as Cleon Jones smacked a three-run homer and doubled home another run against the Dodgers. Rookie Nolan Ryan, staked to a 5-0 lead, was knocked out in the eighth inning but picked up his sixth victory in 11 decisions.

Reliever Fred Gladding rescued left-hander Denny Lemaster from a ninth inning jam to nail Houston's victory over the Astros.

Winter Sports Arena Asked In Milwaukee

'Almost Impossible' To Place Dome on County Stadium

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The manager of Milwaukee County Stadium rejects the idea of a roof over the facility to serve indoor sports. He hopes instead for a new winter-sports arena.

"I'm no engineer," manager Bill Anderson said, "but we've done some investigating, and our best information is that it would be almost impossible—regardless of expenditure—to put a dome on the present stadium."

A Milwaukee County supervisor, who described the stadium as a "white elephant" as long as Milwaukee has no major league baseball franchise, asked the county board earlier this month for a $50,000 study of roof possibilities.

The board also is considering a request for a similar amount of study money for a sports arena adjacent to the stadium.

"What Milwaukee needs," Anderson said, "is not a domed stadium but a new sports arena."

Anderson said that the county board earlier this month for a $50,000 study of roof possibilities.

A Motorboat Carrying 10 Persons drifted over a dam near Dayton, Ohio, Sunday and crashed into rocks in swirling rapids. Rescuers saved seven of the boaters, but three were lost and presumed drowned. In the picture above, a woman and three small children cling to the side of the boat as they await rescue. At right, a rescue team comes in from below the dam to try to save the woman and children still stranded on the boat. Below, one of the boys is lifted to safety. The accident occurred on the Miami River when the engine of the 14-foot craft stopped near the dam while the boat was pulling a water skier. The boat went over the dam with the owner, Junior Ben Holt, hanging on to the side. It crashed into the rapids and became wedged among rocks. Holt died, along with the wife and son of the water skier. All aboard were from Dayton. (AP Wirephotos)

Ohio Prison Inmates Riot, Set Fires

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A riot and numerous fires struck the Ohio Penitentiary this morning. Inmates were reportedly holding five prison workers hostage.

Five prison guards were injured, state officials said.

Some 200 Ohio National Guardsmen were told to report to the armory. One hundred state highway patrolmen armed with shotguns and rifles were sent to the walled prison, housing 2,750 inmates.

Two hours after the first report, a state official said, "There is a degree of control within the prison by various law enforcement units."

"There was never any danger of a mass break-out," the official said.

The only hostage identified immediately was George Jones, a foreman. Harold Holt, said Jones had been forced at knifepoint to accompany inmates from the prison yard to a hiding point deeper in the prison.

There were unconfirmed reports several prison hospital employees and patients, including a physician, Dr. Richard Brooks, were trapped on the fourth floor of the prison hospital.

The hospital is on fire and police were equipped with tear gas.

"We sent a squad of men in to bring out anyone in the hospital," said Maury Koblenz, state corrections chief.

Koblenz said there had been no communications with the rioters. He said he had no knowledge of any demands by the convicts.

"There's a riot in there. There's a couple of fires inside the walls and a bunch of people are milling around," said Columbus safety director Frederick Simon.

Simon said two prison guards were taken to a hospital, but early reports indicated they might have suffered heart attacks.

Armed guards ringed the prison in downtown Columbus. City not confirmed.

'King' of Tiny Channel Isle Dies

BARNSTAPLE, England (AP) — Albion Harman, the "King of Lundy," died Sunday at Barnstaple Hospital. He was 52.

Harman was virtual sovereign of the Isle of Lundy and its 48 inhabitants under a 700-year-old charter handed down through his family. The rocky island three miles long and one mile wide is off England's west coast at the entrance to the Bristol Channel. It is free from income tax and issues its own postage stamps.

Until 1931, the island also issued its own currency named the puffin after the sea bird which nests there. The puffin, worth one penny, is still used as a postage stamp denomination.

In 1961, Harman decided to exercise his ancient right to chase poachers from the waters off Lundy and fired a pot shot from a cannon at a passing trawler. He surrendered this right the following year.

Harman is survived by his widow, a daughter and a son who becomes the new "king." The cause of his death was not announced.

Police Start Clearing Poor People's Camp; Abernathy Arrested

WASHINGTON (AP) — Police peacefully, on charges of violating a law which forbids demonstrations on the Capitol grounds, moved through and took possession of the Poor People's Campaign Resurrection City today. At the Capitol, other police arrested the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, the campaign leader.

About 50 arrests were made at Resurrection City, where residents had been told they could no longer stay on public land. Abernathy was arrested, peaceably, on charges of violating a law which forbids demonstrations on the Capitol grounds. He said it was not, but Johnson did know of the action taken by the government, "he has been well aware of it."

He said federal and metropolitan Washington agencies had coordinated on the matter, with Justice and Interior Departments being the federal agencies involved.

Asked whether he was saying in effect, that Johnson had concurred with the decision, Christian then noted that the President did not overrule it.

Shuttle buses are now available at the west side of the Lincoln Memorial to take you at no cost to the bus station.

"You are in violation of the permit and must leave the camp within the next hour."

Defiant demonstrators planned, too, for a march on the Capitol.

"We are all going to jail," demonstration leader Hosea Williams promised a high-spirit.

U. S. Gunfire Toll in Week: 189 Fatalities

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gunfire killed 189 persons in the United States, a week-long survey by The Associated Press shows, and most of the deaths were homicides. The survey, ended at midnight Sunday, was taken during the same week President Johnson signed an anti-crime bill containing gun-control provisions.

The shooting deaths included 109 homicides, 64 suicides and 16 accidents.

In 1966, the last year for which FBI figures are available, there was an average of 125 shooting homicides a week. Demands for tighter gun-control measures were made after the assassinations of President John F. Kennedy, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy—all killed by guns.

Proponents of gun control blame loose traffic in firearms for thousands of deaths each year.

The AP survey, begun midnight Sunday, June 16, showed gunfire in Texas claimed 20 lives, the greatest number of any state. Homicides there accounted for 14 deaths, almost double the next highest states—Illinois, 16, California, 13, Michigan and Ohio, 10.

Illinois had the most suicide shootings, 7, and Tennessee and Georgia the greatest number of accidental shooting deaths, 3.

Two of the latest gunshot victims in Texas were Robert D. Thomas, 29, a Houston waiter who was shot in a dispute with a co-worker in a restaurant kitchen, and Sam Kennard, 86, who was shot at his Breckenridge home, police said, by an unknown assailant.

Four homicides occurred Saturday night in Chicago—one of which police commented was "just one of those circumstances where a gun is too readily available."

Gaullists Get Big Majority

Communists Are Heavy Losers; Final Elections Due on Sunday

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle's forces appeared headed today for an overwhelming majority in the French National Assembly after strong gains in the first round of the national elections.

Left-wing extremists warned that "the battle has only begun" as preparations began for the runoff elections next Sunday.

Frightened by the May weeks of student violence and nationwide strikes, the French people headed De Gaulle's theme of "Gaullism or Communism" and elected 142 of his followers Sunday.

Gaullist candidates also were in favorable positions for the runoff elections in 150 other districts, indicating that the president and Premier Georges Pompidou might win a majority of more than 100 in the 487-seat assembly.

In the last assembly the Gaullists and their allies had a majority of only one.

It was an unexpected triumph for the 77-year-old general who less than a month ago threatened to resign at the height of the national convulsion.

Stinging Defeat

It was also a stinging defeat for De Gaulle's opponents of the center and left. Only 12 non-Gaullists were elected in the first round in Metropolitan France—6 Communists, 4 Centrists and two members of rightist parties.

And in comparison with the vote in the first round of the 1967 general election, the Communists' percentage of the total vote dropped from 22.51 per cent to 20.03, the non-Communist Left Federation slipped from 18.96 to 16.50 and the Centrist Party of Modern Progress and Democracy declined from 12.34 to 10.64.

The percentage for the Gaullists and their allies, the Independent Republicans, went up from 37.73 per cent in 1967 to 43.65. They also took 10 seats from other parties without losing any they held in the last assembly.

Returns were coming in slowly from the 17 overseas electoral districts. Foreign Minister Michel DeBré was re-elected Reunion Island. Two Gaullists

Predicts Victory

Wallace Seems Certain to Carry 5 States, Maybe 10

By DON MCKEE
Associated Press Writer

Governors Conference recently swept the South unless the Democratic organizations get dates should "run scared of George Wallace."

Former Georgia Gov. Carl E. Sanders said Wallace would indicate his increasingly significant role in the presidential election.

"We are not running to throw the election into the House of Representatives," he told crowds on his first round in Metropolitan Southern fund-raising tour last week. "We are running to win."

But at this stage, even those governors supporting or leaning toward Wallace are not making all-out predictions of victory, as they tried to leave Argentina's largest stadium Sunday and trampled 71 persons to death.

The Argentine tragedy occurred just at sundown on a chilly winter afternoon at Gate 12, one of the 24 entrance-exit gates around the Estadio Monumental, the 90,000 seat home of the River Plate Soccer Club.

The stadium was full for the match between River Plate and Boca Juniors, which ended in a scoreless tie. As the crowd began to leave a jam developed at Gate 12, because the one-way entrance turnstiles had not been removed there.

The stampeding crowd swept away the turnstiles in their panic. Even though Brewer is partisan behind the scenes there were other governors who agreed Wallace might carry more than 5 to 10 states or more.

Gov. John Connally of Texas told newsmen at the Southern Outagamie County police identified the drivers as Ronald F. Mohr, 77, rural New London, and Dennis L. Mereness, 38, 524 W. Eighth St., Kaukauna.

Mohr was taken to New London Community Hospital for treatment of head injuries, and Mereness was taken to Kaukauna Community Hospital with knees, head, and left shoulder injuries.

Two passengers in the Mohr car were hurt. They were Irene Jennerjohn, 79, 404 W. ## Building Inspection Half Done

Brillion Steps Up Efforts to Win HUD Recertification

BRILLION — Efforts to obtain recertification of the city's housing code violations are most prevalent in regard to screening of ventilating windows, and some buildings are now being razed by Aug. 1 to meet this phase of HUD criteria.

Freutel told the city council at a special session Friday. He added that he marveled at the "well kept and remodeled interiors of many older homes." Brillion is lucky that it has very few eyesores.

92 Discrepancies An analysis of the first 266 homes inspected revealed a total of 92 discrepancies on the 30-point check sheets. Ald. Carl Miller reported that about six homes are causing the most trouble.

Clifford Benzschawel, city building inspector, will enforce the housing code with aid from the city council. Fire chief and health officer after letters have been sent to violators, the council decided.

HUD recertification hinges on soon-to-be built community recreation building, sewer and water extensions, added sewage disposal facilities, park extensions and other projects.

The analysis program provides a basis for the evaluation of the need for urban renewal activities, concentrated code enforcement, demolition and neighborhood facilities programs.

Under HUD's new less stringent rules for small cities, future certification will be on a two-year basis. A HUD official is expected here in mid-July to review and analyze the city's efforts in the quest for recertification, according to Mayor Clarence Wolf. Several more buildings are being razed by Aug. 1 to meet this phase of HUD criteria.

A flood plain ordinance is being prepared and the citizens advisory committee has continued to function in an active advisory capacity, as requested by HUD.

Original HUD certification came in June, 1966, and since that time the Brillion Housing Authority received over $500,000 to finance construction of low-rent housing for the elderly.

The housing authority already is planning another project. With continued recertification the city would remain eligible for federal funds for urban renewal projects, including the elimination of other existing buildings that hinder modernization or growth, credits on the city's books.

State University Statement

'Disruptive' Groups Banned

MADISON — Wisconsin's state universities will not approve, recognize or encourage any "disruptive, subversive or anarchistic" organizations on their campuses throughout the state, the system's board of regents voted Friday.

Acting on a resolution prepared by Regent John J. Dixon of Appleton and special legal counsel Emmert L. Winger, the regents enacted a general policy statement aimed at maintaining "a wholesome atmosphere for living and learning."

The action, taken on an 8-0 vote with two abstentions from members who argued that they had not had an opportunity to see the policy statement before voting on it, is widely interpreted as a move to block the spread of Students for Democratic Society (SDS) chapters in the system.

Has Power The system recently learned through a lawsuit that it has the power to refuse recognition or registration to any campus organizations of which it disapproves without infringing on rights of free speech.

That case was started after WSU-LaCrosse refused recognition to an SDS chapter on its campus.

Regents Mary Williams of Stevens Point and David Bennett of Portage refused to vote on the policy plank, saying they had not had sufficient time to study the paper.

The remaining regents agreed that the general position would not interfere with recognition and registration procedures which now vary widely throughout the system. The board asked that a summary of those various procedures be presented to it in the future for possible incorporation into a general, all-system recognition and registration procedure.

"Wholesome Atmosphere" The policy statement holds that "a wholesome atmosphere for living and learning must prevail on our campuses for the educational process to be successfully accomplished."

The authority to carry out the policy was delegated to the nine state university presidents by the board.

$8,000 Price Nichols Petitions for Water Utility Purchase

NICHOLS — The State Public Service Commission has been petitioned to approve the sale of the Fraser Service Company, home in Weyauwega, was home of the water supply company's housekeeper and currently owns the property.

The system was started by A. L. Nichols who founded the village about 1918. Nichols also installed sanitary sewer laterals which led to the Shioe River and resulted in a pollution order from the state against the Town of Cicero.

The $80,000 lawsuit brought by the state against the town resulted in Nichols' incorporation as a village.

The system is housed in a small black building and is capable of pumping 400 gallons of water a minute.

Gerard Lorge, Bear Creek, is the village attorney. Lorge indicated the village already has been assured it could borrow the money necessary for the transaction.

A referendum vote would be necessary to approve the purchase of the utility by the village, according to the PSC.

Two petitions are involved in the transaction. The first is the dissolution of the Fraser Service Company and the other is the purchase and establishment of a publicly-owned and operated water works system.

A A Stroschein, a Weyauwega accountant, is administrator for Fraser Service Company. Many years ago Claude Hinchey, a Weyauwega farmer, have involved deer.

Waupaca Studies Addicent Patterns

Color Clusters Signal Danger Areas

WAUPACA — Clusters of colored stickers on an array of maps are giving traffic officials a clearer and faster view than ever before of where the real danger areas are on the highways.

Displayed in this county traffic department office is a large wall map which pinpoints the exact location and type of every traffic accident which has occurred since the beginning of the year.

With just a casual glance, any onlooker could tell instantly that so far in 1968 six accidents have occurred on State 22 in the King area, six have occurred at the Gards Corner interchange of States 22 and 54 and U. S. 10, and four have been recorded in the Sunset Curve area at the intersection of U. S. 10 and State 49 south of Weyauwega.

One was Fatal If the onlooker knew the color code of the stickers, he also would know immediately that one of the crashes in the King area resulted in a fatality.

He would know, too, which of the mishaps had caused personal injury, which had caused property damage and which had involved deer. All this information would be at his fingertips immediately. Formerly the only way he could obtain it would be by wading through piles of accident reports.

This map system, which has been started just this year as a permanent accident record, is expected to be an extremely important aid in discovering exactly what is causing accidents at danger areas and what can be done to eliminate the special hazards.

An example of the corrective measures that can be taken once the hazards are known is at the construction work scheduled at the intersection of U. S. 10 and County Trunk X near Weyauwega.

For several years this intersection has had a particularly high accident rate. But this year the state highway department has appropriated funds to build passing lanes which are expected to solve much of the problem at the intersection.
